

Contemporary Works from the Southern Plains Indian Museum Collection

The exhibition will feature two- and three-dimensional works from Native American artists of the Southwest, as well as the Northern and Southern Plains.

Artists whose work will be on display include Jack Anquoe Jr. (Kiowa), Beth Bush (Potawatomi), Nocona Burgess (Comanche), Tessa Doyebi-Robledo (Comanche), Chase “Kahwinhut” Earles (Caddo), Gordon Emhoolah (Kiowa), Darryl Growing Thunder (Assiniboine), Florence Manygoats (Navajo), Timothy Tate Nevaquaya (Comanche), Delores Purdy (Caddo), Gene “Ironman” Smith (Choctaw), Roy Talahaftewa (Hopi), Monroe Tsatoke (Kiowa) and Gordon Yellowman (Cheyenne).

The exhibition includes oil and acrylic paintings, narrative ledger drawings, and three-dimensional works such as beadwork, quillwork, silverwork, pottery and textiles.

Kiowa Gourd Dance

Colored Pencil Antique Ledger Paper
2022 Jack Anquoe Jr.
© SPIM Collection

Contemporary Works from the Southern Plains Indian Museum Collection

Wabish Keego, Bandolier Bag
Quill, Beads, Buckskin, and Shell
©2024 Beth Bush
SPIM Collection

Headdress of the Plains
 Forged and Hand Sculpted Metal
 ©2024 Gene Ironman Smith
 SPIM Collection

Raised Outline Navajo Rug
 Hand Dyed and Woven Wool
 ©2024 Florence Many Goats
 SPIM Collection

Doh-ohh-Tay-won : To Play
 Hand Dug Clay and Pit Fired
 ©2023 Chase Kahwinhut Earles
 SPIM Collection

Butterfly Blessings
 Acrylic on Canvas
 ©2019 Joyce Nevaquaya Harris
 SPIM Collection

Texas Frontier
 Colored Pencil on Antique Ledger
 Paper
 ©2022 Beau Tsatoke
 SPIM Collection

Portrait: Monroe Tsatoke in War Bonnet
 Acrylic on Canvas
 ©2021 A. Monroe Tsatoke
 SPIM Collection

