

Department of the Interior Departmental Manual

Effective Date: 11/24/20

Series: Organization

Part 105: Department

Chapter 2: General Organization of the Department

Originating Office: Office of the Executive Secretariat and Regulatory Affairs

105 DM 2

2.1 Organization and Functional Statements. The Department of the Interior includes the Office of the Secretary and Bureaus (see attached organization chart). Functional statements or organizational descriptions for the Office of the Secretary and Bureaus along with organizational charts are available on the Department's website at: <https://www.doi.gov/elips>.

A. The Office of the Secretary includes the Secretarial Officers, their staffs, and the Secretarial Offices (offices reporting to the Secretary). The organizations and functions for Secretarial Officers are described in Part 109 of the Departmental Manual (DM). Secretarial Offices reporting to the Secretary, Deputy Secretary, and Assistant Secretaries are described in Parts 110 through 112 of the DM.

B. The Bureaus of the Department of the Interior are assigned to a specific Part in the DM. Each Bureau's functional description along with an organizational chart is provided in their assigned Part. Provided below is a list of the Bureaus and their assigned Part Number.

- (1) Office of Surface Mining Reclamation and Enforcement, Part 116 DM.
- (2) Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, Part 118 DM.
- (3) Bureau of Safety and Environmental Enforcement, Part 119 DM.
- (4) U.S. Geological Survey, Part 120 DM.
- (5) Bureau of Indian Affairs, Part 130 DM.
- (6) Bureau of Indian Education, Part 130 DM.
- (7) Bureau of Land Management, Part 135 DM.
- (8) U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Part 142 DM.

(9) National Park Service, Part 145 DM.

(10) Bureau of Reclamation, Part 155 DM.

2.2 External Publication of Organization Statements.

A. Abbreviated statements of the organization and functions of the Department of the Interior are also published in the United States Government Manual, available at the Government Printing Office Website at: <https://www.usgovernmentmanual.gov/>.

B. Functional statements for the Department of the Interior's Bureaus/Offices are updated and published in the Federal Register whenever changes occur that directly and substantially affect the public. Organization statements in the Federal Register are published in accordance with the provisions of Title 5, Section 552 of the United States Code.