Dear Ms. Chouinard:

It was a pleasure meeting you in Crossett Wednesday evening. The presentation was informative and well done.

On the upper northwest edge of the planned acquisition boundary for the Felsenthal NWR it appears that 17 small parcels are included, which have homes built on them. I would argue that it serves no purpose to include this residential neighborhood in the new Felsenthal boundary. The area is commonly called Pine Prairie, located in Bradley County at the end of County Road 65.

Please consider this a request to exclude this neighborhood from the proposed acquisition area.

I am not opposed to the overall expansion; therefore, I support the idea of acquiring as much hunting land as possible for the future enjoyment by our children. If it hadn't been for old Teddy Roosevelt, think where we would be.

Sincerely,

Bryan Martin
Mayor of Warren

Michael –

I hope you had a good weekend.

Is there a good number to reach you at? I wanted to follow up with you on the hearing location. This morning I received 25 letters from concerned constituents in Bradley County requesting additional consideration be given to the scope of the expansion. I would like to discuss the hearing location in additional detail with you so we can help allay these concerns. Please let me know a good number and time to reach you.

Thanks,

John

Justices debate refuge proposal

By TIM KESSLER
Eagle Democrat Editor

Bradley County Quorum Court justices debated the proposed expansion of Felsenthal National Wildlife Refuge at their March 18 meeting.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has proposed purchasing 50,459 additional acres to allow for the conservation of a total of more than 172,000 acres linking and expanding Felsenthal NWR in Arkansas and Upper Ouachita National Wildlife Refuge in Louisiana.

The expansion would add 1,663 acres to the already 17,829 acres of the refuge located in Bradley County.

County Judge Keith Neely said he felt the expansion would hurt Hermitage School District, as the refuge would make in-lieu-of-tax payments on the affected land rather than property owners making personal property tax payments that could give more tax revenue to the school district.

He also said that he had no cooperation from refuge staff members concerning problems created on maintenance of county roads.

"They're trying to grab more land that will take it out of production," he said.

Justice Melvin Mills said he had previously served on the Felsenthal board of directors and he felt the expansion would have minimal impact on tax dollars.

He noted that over the years, sometimes taxes on timber cut on the refuge's land brought in more money than would personal property taxes.

"If we didn't have the refuge, it may have been clear-cut," he said.

Mills said after the meeting, "It may hurt the school district down the road if the government defaults and doesn't pay," but he added, "Up to now, the school has benefited from the refuge."

"We always got more money than if it wasn't a refuge," he said.

Justice Jim Anders said, "Any time you say in-lieu-of-taxes, it's going to be less than the taxes actually were."

Justice Pat Morman said, "I don't see where adding 1,700 acres is going to add anything received from Arkansas Highway and Transportation Department (AHTD) as part of its portion of grant funds.

That left $234,000 in the Intermodal operating account but $250,000 was owed to Commercial Bank on the Intermodal's $1 million line of credit.

Another $20,876 was owed to T&T Construction from a previous invoice, plus $34,358 to T&T on a new invoice.

A motion was approved to pay $150,000 toward the bank loan and to pay the two T&T invoices.

• Board members approved adding board members Rick Warner, Roger George and Freddie Mobley to sign checks on a Warren Bank and Trust account.

• Ruck said T&T's contracted work to lay the spur bed was essentially finished but wouldn't be completed until the spur was in place. He said water tests were completed and approved for water and sewer lines done by Peck Construction Co. and Reece Construction Co. and retainage fees would be paid to those companies after paperwork was received.

• Cliff McKinney of AHTD said another amendment would be needed in the Intermodal agreement for engineering services.

• Patrecia Hargrove, grants administrator for Southeast Arkansas Economic Development District Inc., said that she hadn't received any invoices from SEARIA for the past few months except for a $22,065 invoice from Peck Construction.

Milton said he would submit a $237,000 invoice from Reece Construction.

EDA was providing some funding for the project on a 68 percent/32 percent split.

to the overall effect of the refuge."

All of the nine justices later signed a letter sent to USFWS officials stating several concerns about the expansion.

Those concerns included:

• Payment in-lieu-of-taxes has declined from $70,640 in 2001 to $30,695 in 2012. This drop in revenue hurts school districts and county government.

• To purchase more land when we have a large national debt.

• To improve what you have before adding to your cost of maintenance with more acres.

The letter also stated, "We ask you to extend the comment period for 30 days to allow for more information and comments from residents of Bradley County. There has been little or no information in the news media."

Neely also sent his own letter stating his opposition to the expansion and reporting that he had not had a good working relationship in the past with refuge officials.

"When the refuge was constructing parking lots and roads inside the refuge, damage was done to county roads and bridges. The construction was done without prior notice to any county official. The county has received no assistance from the refuge in maintaining roads entering the refuge," Neely wrote.

"The promise of better duck hunting, deer hunting and fishing would increase the revenue of local business income has not happened due to lack of good management of the Ouachita River and Felsenthal Refuge," he said.

In other action:

• Neely said he wanted the solid waste and personnel committees to meet soon.

• Tullos Tree Service quoted a price of $800 to cut down a large ash tree on the courthouse lawn that had been deemed a safety hazard, as it had hollowed out. Neely said he expected to have the tree removed within the next few days.

• Wittenberg, Delony and Davidson architects submitted an estimate of $42,401 to repair cracks in the foundation of the courthouse.

Neely said an application for a grant to do the work had been submitted to the Arkansas Historic Preservation Commission.

• Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality permits are being awaited on construction of a bridge on Bradley 65.

The project will be funded by a $142,000 grant through Arkansas Economic Development Commission on a 75/25 percent match. Neely said the county's portion of the matching funds would be provided through in-kind labor.

• Morman said he would like to get some input from the other justices as to what questions should be included on a form to be given to entities receiving Arkansas Game and Fish Commission funds through the county.

• A motion was approved to have the county pay $2,000 to Probably within 15 minutes after you left. The Mahonys were still in the auditorium when they arrived.

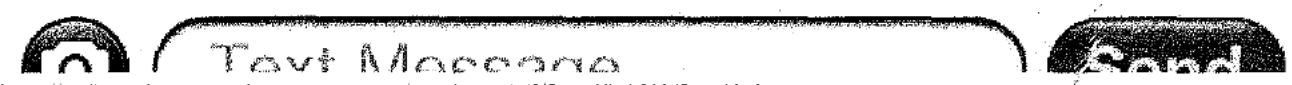
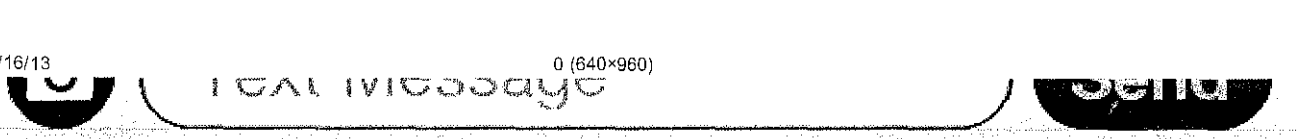
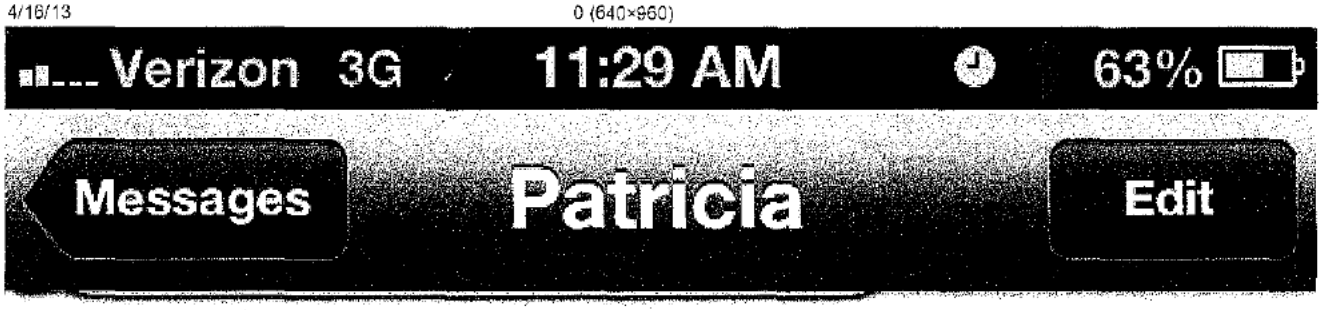
meeting in warren be? Open house or formal meeting where people can stand up and make statements?

I prefer open house which provides for more one/on one interaction but I will assume everyone else would prefer a more formal format

In Warren, yes, more formal, so they can all stand up and state thier objections. ..that is fine for Crossett, in fact I think it will be good.







I will probably give a 15 minute presentation and open up to comments.

I have received FOIA responses from Arkansas Refuges. The folllowing have stated nothing to report:

Bald Knob, Wapanocca, Big Lake, White River, Holla Bend, Logan Cave, Overflow, Cache River, and Pond Creek.

Below you will find the submission for Keith Weaver. Also I will bring down to you a Fed EX package from Felsenthal NWR (Michael Stroeh) as soon as it arrives today. It was sent overnight yesterday.

Thanks and if you need more information please let me know.

Jay - thank you for the opportunity to comment. In response to the constituent request below, the succinct response is - there are no negotiations occurring between USFWS and Anderson Tulley Corporation (ATCO) regarding the acquisition of Big Island or any other Anderson Tulley Company lands - nor with any lands owned by any party within the current proposed acquisition boundary expansion.

As you are aware based on our briefing a couple weeks ago, ATCO lands (as well as other ownerships) are within a draft, proposed, expanded acquisition boundary of about 125,000 acres for White River NWR, but that is because the lands within this proposed boundary (ATCO lands and others) are considered to be of potential conservation value to the refuge and the public if such lands were ever offered for sale - not as a result of any prior negotiations or agreements between USFWS and these land owners (because none have occurred).

The disposition of leases on Big Island is solely a matter between ATCO and the lessees - the USFWS has no dealings, concerns, or interactions with ATCO or lessees regarding leases.

If you need any additional information or require any clarification, or if additional questions arise - please let me know.

Thank you

Jay,

I spoke with Andrea about a person that contacted our office. This person would like to remain anonymous about his concern for fear that Anderson Tulley may not renew their hunting lease on Big Island. He inquired on whether there are current negotiations or finalized plans with Anderson Tulley and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in the acquisition of Big Island.

If you could, can you please provide this information to me so that I may contact the individual.

Colleagues

The U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) Arkansas Water Science Center will be offering a congressional briefing on Wednesday January 9 at 2 p m. in the USGS conference room in Little Rock to announce the release of the report "Shallow Groundwater Quality and Geochemistry in the Fayetteville Shale Gas-Production Area, North-Central Arkansas, 2011".

This study by the USGS, in cooperation with the Arkansas Natural Resources Commission, Arkansas Oil and Gas Commission, Duke University, Faulkner County, Shirley Community Development Corporation, University of Arkansas at Fayetteville, and the USGS Groundwater Resources Program sampled groundwater from 127 domestic wells and documents groundwater quality and geochemistry in an area with shale gas-production activities in Faulkner and Van Buren Counties, Arkansas.

Congressional Briefing Agenda:

Introduction (1-2 minutes)
Report Summary Presentation (10 minutes)
Questions and Answers (10-15 minutes)

If you have any questions, please contact me at (501) 228-3618 or freiwald@usgs.gov. Please RSVP tofreiwald@usgs.gov by Monday January 7.

Greetings Sparta Stakeholders . . .

As you know Monday's will be Congressman Cotton's 1st town hall meeting in El Do/Un Co since the election. I plan to attend and thank him for sending two representatives -- Lesley Nelms and Vanessa Moody -- to November 29 events in El Do/Un Co in conjunction with the State Water Plan Update public meeting. Have a great day . . .

Cotton to hold town hall meeting

El Dorado News Times, 1.24.13 P2

U.S. Representative Tom Cotton will have a town hall meeting from 5 until 6 p.m. Monday in the second floor courtroom of the Union County Courthouse.

The public is invited to attend.

Mission Statement: The guiding purpose and primary objective of the Union County Water Conservation Board is to conserve, protect, and maintain the Sparta Formation Aquifer as a continuing source of high quality, potable water for current and future consumers by providing for affordable, alternate sources of fresh water pursuant to the authority and responsibility granted by the State of Arkansas.
