This building is alarmed

- Check that all perimeter doors (front, side, and back) to building are locked and there are no signs of attempted illegal entry.
- No need to enter building unless suspicious activity or building malfunction is suspected.
- Make sure that all exterior lights are operating properly

If entry through any door (front, side, and back) is necessary:

- "Main Building" alarm must be disarmed.
- Alarm panel is to the left of the front entry doors as you enter building. Door lock can stick.
- "Main Building" alarm panel is the top panel. This is labeled.
- Disarm top panel only. High pitched sound will stop.
- Entry into the offices on the floor is not necessary unless signs of suspicious activity are present.
- Note: Curator's office is separately alarmed. B&U alarm code will not work on this alarm panel. The mechanical equipment is located in the lower rooms on the right side of the building when facing the front.

Set alarm before leaving building, Lock front door.

ARHO Administrative Building:

This building is alarmed.

- Enter building through front door.
- Alarm panel is to the left as you enter building.
- Disarm building.

Check: General walk through of building to check for any signs of leaks, water, etc. Be certain to check the kitchen and both restrooms.

- Go upstairs to second floor
- Check that lock on wire gate to museum collection storage is secure with no sign of tampering.

To exit and alarm building:

- Go to front door.
- Wait for green ready light on alarm panel (Don't move)
- Set alarm.
- Exit building making sure door is locked.
- Make sure that all exterior lights are operating properly
- Note: There is also an alarm panel located near the back door of the building in the hallway and on the right. Also, the server and HVAC systems are located on the second floor of the building.

ARHO Museum Building/Potting Shed:

Building should be entered to check status and security of museum objects.

This building is alarmed.

- Unlock the white side door (faces the path) which has a brick stoop in front.
- The alarm panel is to the right of the door as you walk in.
- Disarm the “Museum” alarm panel on right only. This is labeled. (Do not disarm the Exhibits alarm panel on the left).
- Once disarmed, exit this area and enter the museum at the front of the building.
- Check that exhibit cases have no signs of tampering.
- Cases that are empty on purpose will be clearly labeled. All other cases should have objects.
- If not, call USPP and the GWMP Curator.
- Note: Second floor is separately alarmed. B&U Code will not work on alarm panel. Entry to second floor is not necessary and should not be attempted.

Lock front door of museum when leaving.

Set alarm before leaving.

Lock side door.

ARHO Comfort Station:

This building is not alarmed. Perform general walk around to check for signs of entry, damage, etc. You can enter to check for leaks or any plumbing issues. Ensure that all doors including those for the Men’s, Women’s and First Aid Rooms are locked/secured. Mechanical systems and electrical panels are located via the rooms on the back and right side of the building accessible via NPS Master Key.

Arlington House Mansion:

Building should be entered to check status and security of museum objects.

Walk perimeter of mansion to ensure there are no broken windows, etc. Pay special attention to the 1st story windows if we have recently had a storm/wind event, as there may be leaks and/or water damage especially in the Attic and North Wing sections of the mansion. Please note that there are spill kit materials in the closets off of the pantry if needed

This building is alarmed.

- Unlock the back door on the wood landing to the North Wing.
- You will hear two high pitched alarms.
- Proceed through the house to the front door of the mansion.
- Alarm panels for the House and the Exhibit Areas are located to the right of the front door.
- Disarm both alarm panels. High pitched alarms will stop.

Check: Walk interior of mansion, paying attention near exterior doors after wind/rain to ensure that no water has seeped through and pooled on the floor. All of the lights should be off except for those in the Center Hall. Unless there is damage inside of the exhibit rooms please do not enter those areas. The majority of the exhibit areas are blocked via metal gates that should open with an NPS Master Key.

The only two exhibit areas without gates are the White Parlor (Room with Red Furnishings) and the Morning Room. For the Morning Room please note that lining the perimeter of the stanchions is a security/pressure mat that is on “24 hrs” unless bypassed on the House alarm panel. General inspection of interior rooms for signs of leaks, defective sprinkler heads, etc. Check water pumps and valves in cellar of mansion.

If the mansion seems unusually, warm or humid, contact the ARHO Facility Manager, Tim Bogan.

To exit and alarm the building:

- Go to alarm panels at front door.
- Wait for green ready lights on both panels. (Don't move)
- Reset both alarm panels (the main house panel will give you 60 seconds to vacate)
- Exit by way of main hall to the North Wing back door.
- Exit and lock back door.

ARHO South Slave Quarters:

Perform general walk around to check for signs of entry, damage, etc. No need to enter. Ensure that all doors are locked/secured. The HVAC for this building is located in the loft above Selina Gray's Quarters. This building does not have an alarm system.

ARHO North Slave Quarters:

Perform general walk around to check for signs of entry, damage, etc. No need to enter. Ensure that all doors are locked/secured. Please note that the electrical panel is located underneath the building accessible via a hatch w/ladder that is located in the middle room underneath the prop bed. This building does not have an alarm system.

***Upon Exiting the Mansion Grounds, ensure that the bicycle barricade/gate is closed.*****

ARHO Mechanical Bunker:

Perform general walk around to check for signs of entry, damage, etc. No need to enter unless there are signs of entry or the fire and/or HVAC systems are in trouble.

The key for this building is available in the key box in the Facility Manager's office in the Old Administration Building. This office is directly across from the staff breakroom and the keybox is on the left upon entry. The key for the bunker is #11. The first room on the right contains the equipment operating the fire equipment for the mansion. The room furthest to the left contains the equipment for the site's HVAC system.

Glen Echo Park (GLEC) / Clara Barton (CLBA) NHS shutdown checklist:

In the event of a govt shutdown here is a list of what the essential employee(s) should look for at GLEC & CLBA. We've also listed employee phone numbers, location of alarm panels, and other info that should help folks not familiar with the sites.

A government master key should get NPS personnel into CLBA and some GLEC buildings. The key box for GLEC is across from Site Manager office in the GLEC ranger station. Some buildings are only accessible with a GEPPAC key. If there is a shut down there will be a master key in the GLEC key box.

There are also a number of combination locks in GLEC: either 0037, 7300 or 7308

The key box for CLBA is in first floor break room where staff mailboxes and office supplies are. (This is the room you walk into when you come up the stairs from the CLBA basement).

USPP and B&U personnel should have alarm codes for CLBA. If you don't know them, please call:

Phone Numbers:

Curator Kimberly Robinson at 202-359-0624 (work cell)
or (b) (6) (pers cell).
(Alarm codes)

Facility Manager Phyllis "Sharna" Plater: 202-438-1480 (work cell)
(b) (6) (home)

Supervisory Park Ranger Aaron LaRocca: 202-438-6619
(work cell); (b) (6) (pers cell).

Clara Barton NHS:

Alarms. There are four alarm panels for CLBA:

- Main alarm panel: In the basement of CLBA, in front of you as you come thru side door. This main alarm panel covers all staff offices on 1st and second floors, the main public areas including the bookstore, foyer and hallways as well as staff breakrooms and the first floor "center" Red Cross office. Re-Arm this panel upon exiting the site from the staff entrance.
- "Museum Panel" is in the curator's office. The curator's office is across from red exhibit room on first floor, behind the Red Cross Flag. This panel should remain armed unless access is needed to the exhibit areas to check or deal with damage caused by vandalism or inclement weather.
- "Museum Panel" is for all the exhibit rooms on the 1st-2nd floors, including the side Red Cross Office and Dining Room (these are on either side of first floor "center" Red Cross office) and the two storerooms on the 3rd floor.
- The alarm panel for the 3rd floor center "hanging" bedroom is in the Curator's Office, above the "Museum Panel."

"This panel should remain armed unless access is needed to the exhibit areas to check or deal with damage caused by vandalism or inclement weather."

- The forth panel is outside of curatorial storage in the basement to the right of the doorway. Only museum staff have codes for this alarm panel. A master key will unlock this door.

Look For:

- In second floor large volunteer bedroom, where you can see water damage on wall above bed: There is a pan behind the bed that needs to be emptied if we get lots of rain. Best thing to do is bring a bucket in the room and empty the pan and put the pan back immediately. Room needs to be de-armed first. (See alarm info).
- CLBA bedroom: (furnished corner bedroom, second floor): check for water damage.
- Library: monitor for leaks in the CLBA Library both in the room at large and by window bank. That area has a consistent history of leaks when it rains heavily.
- Lights: CLBA staff will leave light in basement by side door on since basement is very dark. There extra light bulbs available in the museum technician's office.
- Spot check the exhibit rooms and public areas to make sure nothing has fallen over or is damaged.

- Roof: if we get lots of wind/rain, leaves will have to be removed from the roof. Leaves will block water from draining off roof, causing ponding (ie water doesn't drain) and roof damage. Blowers are in shed by GLEC maintenance pen. Key for shed is in GLEC ranger office key box (#11).
- Water shut off valves in case pipes break and water is in CLBA rooms:
  - Outside: There is a shut off next to outside water meter. (Look for an orange cone and a blue pole near side entrance to house. The blue disk in the ground is the shut off. Needs a special tool. WSSC has this info.
  - Inside: As you enter the basement there is a water shut off valve on black pipe above the washer/dryer. Valve has been labeled.
- Grounds: Check the perimeter of the mansion to make sure that there are no signs of entry or damage due to inclement weather. Also check the propane tanks and the water boiler shed to ensure that those areas are undamaged and secure.

Note: There is a wet/dry vacuum available in the main basement of the building along with spill kit materials. There are also spill kit materials available in the closet in the museum technician's office, in the closet outside of the ranger offices on the second floor and in the closet to the right of the South Storeroom on the Third Floor.

Glen Echo:

In case of heavy rain or snow melt:

- 3 storm drains needs to be kept clear--one across from the old pen, one in Tulane Ave, one on GLEC side of main path, just before Minnehaha Bridge.
- 3 vaults (manholes) need to be pumped out so site doesn't lose phones, etc.
  - Locations: 1. between middle island and double doors to north arcade (labeled NPS telecom); 2. just up the hill from ranger office with asphalt around it (also labeled NPS telecom). 3. closest to Crystal pool facade (rarely needs pumping). Big pump for first 2 vaults is in far sea container behind Living Classrooms (middle sea container). An NPS government key will open the office and the sea containers.
- All gutters were cleaned except ones on highest part of yellow barn. These are usually clear since there aren't any trees near the YB.
- Trash--overflowing cans--should be picked up.
- Seacontainers: Please check the sea containers for signs of damage or entry
- Candy Corner and Shooting Gallery: These exhibit areas should be checked for signs of damage or entry.
- Alarms: The alarm panel for the GLEC Ranger Station is on your left side of the main entrance. GWMP B&U's code should work for this area along with USPP. There is also a separate panel in the server/telephone room that is to the right as you enter that area. The alarm panel for the GLEC Candy Corner is located near the back double doors to the right of the doorway. The panel for the shooting gallery exhibit area is to your right in the entryway.

Great Falls (GRFA) Park facility check list

Joe Burns and/or Brent O'Neill will be in the morning of the day the government is shut down to coordinate this list with staff. Staff has up to four hours to complete shutdown of the site and shutdown personal office equipment.

- Turn Park Closed signs at Georgetown Pike/Old Dominion intersection
- Lock and staff gate until all cars are out
- All staff check email for WASO shutdown information and Furlough notices, and send them to personal email or print to retain information.
- Visitor Center: Access code - 9200; Turn off lights upstairs utility room breaker switches all except 37 and 39, which stay on; check and lock all access doors of upper and lower levels, including Ranger offices and restroom doors. Alarm both sides of building (code 9200) on lower level.

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE CONTINGENCY PLAN

As stated in its original authorizing legislation, the National Park Service mission is to “preserve unimpaired the natural and cultural resources and values of the national park system for the enjoyment, education, and inspiration of this and future generations.”

Effective immediately upon a lapse in appropriations, the National Park Service will take all necessary steps to close and secure national park facilities and grounds in order to suspend all activities except for those that are essential to respond to emergencies involving the safety of human life or the protection of property. Day use visitors will be instructed to leave the park immediately as part of Phase 1 closures. Visitors utilizing overnight concession accommodations and campgrounds will be notified to make alternate arrangements and depart the park as part of Phase 2. Wherever possible, park roads will be closed and access will be denied. National and regional offices and support centers will be closed and secured, except where they are needed to support excepted personnel. These steps will be enacted as quickly as possible while still ensuring visitor and employee safety as well as the integrity of park resources.

The shutdown process will take place in two phases. Phase 1 includes all activities to notify the public of the closure, secure government records and property, and begin winding down operations to essential activities only. Phase 1 will take place over a day and a half. Phase 2 will be initiated by the Director and includes the complete shutdown of all concession facilities and commercial visitor services. Overnight visitors will be given two days to make alternate arrangements and depart the parks. At the end of Phase 2 operations are expected to be at the minimum levels defined below. The entire closure process – both phases – will be completed within four days.

Part 1: Designation of Essential and Continuing Programs/Activities

The Emergency Response Official designation on a Federal ID card is not necessarily a factor in determining excepted personnel. Rather, as defined by the Department of the Interior, essential activities and activities that will continue during a lapse in appropriations are:

- Protecting life and property, including:
- Emergency medical care;
- Law enforcement and disaster assistance;
- Border and coastal protection and surveillance;
- Protection of federal lands, buildings, waterways, equipment, and other property within the National Park System;
- Activities essential to ensure continued public health and safety, including safe use of food and drugs and safe use of hazardous materials, drinking water, sewage treatment operation;
- Activities that ensure production of power and maintenance of the power distribution system;
- Activities necessary to maintain protection of research property;

- Essential or time-sensitive support services for employees;
- Uninterrupted command, control, and policy leadership;
- Maintenance of IT systems critical to activities being carried out by excepted personnel (e.g., radio communication, e-mail, accounting systems, etc.);
- Year-end financial management activities; and
- Communication with employees and the public.

Providing for finance and contracting activities such as benefit payments and actions necessary to suspend or stop work on projects currently underway that require oversight or support from employees funded from lapsed appropriations. That is, contracting and finance personnel necessary to perform these duties should remain until the activities can be suspended.

Direct management of projects obligated from funds that are not subject to lapse, such as multi-year appropriations from prior fiscal years. People not DIRECTLY involved in project management or necessary contracting actions and payments for these projects will not be considered excepted or continue to work.

Staffing will be held to the very minimum to perform essential functions. This will ordinarily be only law enforcement personnel, at a staffing level that allows for reactive emergency response commensurate with levels of park operations under the shutdown. However, in certain instances maintenance and IT personnel may be required for systems that normally require 24 hour monitoring or periodic maintenance, without which the system would shut down. Emergency responders, including Fire Management, EMS, and Law Enforcement personnel, not required for essential activities will be placed on furlough but may be called back to duty if an emergency situation arises.

Headquarters

In order to complete the required, essential activities defined above, the NPS Washington Support Office (NPS Headquarters) will retain key NPS leaders, as well as a bare minimum number of employees in policy coordination, communication, human resources, contracting, finance, and budget roles, including employees necessary to uphold our year-end financial management responsibilities. Employees required for centralized processing of payments for ongoing projects funded by multi-year appropriations will remain on duty at the minimum level necessary to avoid harm to life, health, and property. NPS leaders remaining on duty will include the Director, Deputy Director for Operations, and the Comptroller. Total excepted and continuing staff is estimated to be no more than 50 full-time employees.

Regional Offices

The National Park Service's seven regional offices play key roles in policy direction and coordination between the Washington office and individual national park sites. During the shutdown process, the regional leaders of law enforcement, administration, budget, contracting, public affairs, and concessions management will remain on duty to implement the closure guidance. Once the shutdown is complete, each region will retain approximately three full-time 3 staff members to conduct essential activities, disseminate information, both internally and externally, and ensure continued shutdown coordination and communication between Washington and the field.

National Park Sites

Due to the dramatic differences in operations, size, visitation, location, and infrastructure represented in national park sites, the number of employees required to carry out the essential activities defined above will vary greatly from site to site. As a rule, staffing will be held to the very minimum for the protection of life, property, and public health and safety. Only personnel absolutely required to support these activities will remain on duty. Wildland fire personnel required for active fires or for monitoring areas currently under a fire watch will remain on duty. All other personnel, including law enforcement, EMS, and Fire Management not deemed excepted will be furloughed, but will be subject to being called back in the case of an emergency. See below for employee counts by region. The personnel count for the National Capitol Region includes U.S. Park Police staff required for essential activities.

Other Offices

The NPS maintains two project management support centers for large-scale projects – one in Harper’s Ferry, WV and one in Denver, CO. Many of the projects managed through these centers are funded through multi-year appropriations. However, even if an employee’s salary is funded from a non-lapsing appropriation, they are not automatically deemed exempt. Employees funded from non-lapsing appropriations rely on facilities and support staff who are funded by expiring appropriations, as such managers will designate employees as exempt based upon the specific nature of an employees work and whether it is essential. Employees at these locations necessary for DIRECT project management of ongoing projects funded by multi-year appropriations will remain on duty.

Part 2: Designation of Excepted Personnel

The following estimate of personnel required to carry out the essential activities defined above is based upon the agency’s experience from 1995, planning efforts from 2011, and current planning efforts.

Alex,

A USPP motor unit is stationed at the entrance to IWO. We put the water filled barriers back in place for the third time today. I am sure they will be moved as soon as the officer leaves. I will be leaving to go home at 3:00 PM. Do not hesitate to call me if I can be of any further assistance.

Thanks

Due to government shutdown at the Ford's Theatre National Historic Site, the private non-profit 501(c)(3) organization Ford's Theatre Society media night performance of The Laramie Project has been relocated to Woolly Mammoth Theatre. Ford's Theatre Society Director Paul R. Tetreault will be available at Woolly Mammoth Theatre from 6:30-7:30 p.m. to speak with media about the shutdown. Details on the closures are below and an advisory for this evening is attached. Please contact me with any questions or interview requests.

FORD'S THEATRE AFFECTED BY GOVERNMENT SHUTDOWN

Because of the ever-changing situation with the government shutdown, we have received conflicting messages over the last several days about the fate of Ford's Theatre National Historic Site. Ford's Theatre Society is a private non-profit 501(c)(3) organization, and we do not use any federal funding or federal employees for our performances. Because our productions do not utilize public money, we were able to continue performances during previous government shutdowns. However, we have now been told that we cannot perform in the theatre during the shutdown, which will affect performances of The Laramie Project and upcoming Lincoln Legacy Project events. We have moved tonight's press night performance to Woolly Mammoth Theatre, which has generously offered us its rehearsal space. We have space only for press tonight; all other guests will be rescheduled. As the shutdown progresses, we will be in touch with patrons regarding the status of future performances.

Our walking tour, Investigation: Detective McDevitt, will continue. The Center for Education and Leadership, which is owned and operated by the Society, will stay open for daytime visits from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The Center includes two floors of permanent exhibits about Lincoln's assassination and legacy. It also includes one floor of temporary exhibits, currently showing Not Alone: The Power of Response, which features a selection of letters sent to Matthew Shepard's family in order to explore the themes of empathy, community response and personal responsibility.

Groups of 15 or more with questions should email groups@fords.org. Individual patrons with questions should email visit@fords.org.

It appears as if people are respecting the closure of the presidential memorials, Lincoln and Jefferson. There is a larger park police presence at these sites and it seems to be deterring visitors.

Oct 4

For MLK and FDR we recommend two rangers per site to monitor and maintain closures. This allows one ranger at each end.

We have three rangers at WWII and that seems to be working. Not

As for Korea, we think there should be three rangers. One for each of the entrances. We also recommend the same black mesh fencing to be run around the site like MLK.

At VVM it is going to take four. Plus the black mesh.

Without surrounding areas with black mesh we can only be visible, but not effective.

Additional signage everywhere. They have become souvenirs.

Tour groups are outnumbering us and are walking around us, claiming honor guard status, etc

If we are bringing in more staff, can you begin calling other Gs11s and up, and supervisors.

Oct 2

to Bob, Karen

I am thinking Rosanna and I can form 2 teams so we take turns. Teams will have 3 to 4 of our gs-11 supervisors and either Rosanna or I as a lead. With one other lead, such as Rae or Karen or... We can have 3 teams rotating so that folks only have to work once every 3 days (more for exhaustion sake and to keep positive attitudes).

I have only called Rosanna.

If I need to initiate this or some other version, let me know.

So, I spoke to Frank Lewis who is acting over at special events. He will bring over the ties but he has no tape. It looks like we may have to order our own. As far as cleaning, I don't believe there is a cleaning crew on site. Not sure if special events is going to clean our bathrooms. Did you want me to follow up with Joe/Jorge or did you want to send them a note. We may be on our own with this one.

Richard, Carolyn <carolyn_richard@nps.gov>

Oct 11

to William

Are you ordering supplies? If we run out of tape, can we get some pretty quick through your credit card?

As far as cleaning, no one is cleaning, and I know that. The issue is that we should have enough supplies on hand that we have options for cleaning up after ourselves ! Please do not ask mntn about cleaning as they have no staff on hand for that.

Sites need to be better stocked before all employees go home.

All bathrooms need TP, paper towels ( for cleaning spills as much as anything else to help keep contact stations semi-clean), as well as hand soap. We ran out of hand soap.

Extra trash bags so working staff can take out trash.

As far as office supplies, we had shortages of strapping tape. Who would know the need for signs, but big tape is big tape, and always useful. Duct tape too.

Hi Elizabeth,

Before doing anything with signs, confirm what the final sign is that you should be printing with Rosanna. We need both signs:

1st amendment sign for WWII and Korea

Govt shutdown signs for Vietnam, MLK, and FDR.

We'll ask you to work with Ned Wallace or Leonard Lee to print out more.

Then Rosanna will have to show you the super secret command for laminating the signs.

Then we'll have get the new signs to staff who can put up the signs on the windboards - a nice break for them to do something instead of staffing the gates!

Thanks for coming in.

News Alert

Congress approves bill to end shutdown, raise debt ceiling

Sixteen days after a federal government shutdown began and one day before the U.S. would have exhausted its ability to borrow money, Congress has approved a bill to reopen the government and raise the debt ceiling until Feb. 7. President has promised to sign the legislation immediately, meaning federal workers could be back at work as soon as Thursday.

Just had a conversation with Paul T. regarding my earlier notification letter. The conversation was very cordial. After discussion over why the Kennedy Center could pursue a daytime closure and nighttime opening I ultimately stated that I did feel confident that the NPS had legal authority to close the site. I assured him that I would take no offense if he wanted to escalate the decision. Ultimately he suggested the idea of hosting tonight's performance on the walk way and street. I told him I thought this would be a great win-win. I also assured him that the moment we receive permission to reopen we would try to make the theatre reopening a top priority.

I love shutdowns—we should do this every week!

FYI... It appears the final preview scheduled for tonight will be held at the Shakespeare Theater. If the shutdown persist through tomorrow, I have overheard that opening night will be cancelled. If the shutdown continues for let's say a week, they will look for another venue to hold the play.

Sprinklers at VVM

10/23/2013

To: william_cheek@nps.gov

It may be hard to see in the picture (attached), but a few of the sprinkler heads look broken and are watering the pavers, not the grass.

I bring this up not necessarily because its raining today, but mainly because I wasn't sure if they were suppose to still be on or not.

Thanks,

Light post knocked over at John Paul Jones

I wanted to send a heads up that a driver knocked over a light post this morning at John Paul Jones Memorial. USPP responded and reported that the Mayor's office is sending out someone (I'm assuming DPW) as the light post appears to be DC's and not ours.

- There was an Honor Flight veteran who was transported to GW hospital with non- life threatening injuries just before 11 am.

- Glenn Beck along with about 50 participants have assembled near the Grant Statue and Capitol Reflecting Pool.

- NAMA rangers have reported that the "lawn mower guy" is present along with equipment at the Lincoln Memorial Plaza.

USPP have officers on site at all three locations.

There are unconfirmed reports that there are trucks associated with the "Truckers Ride For the Constitution" group on 395 near Glebe Rd. headed north. Also, there were reports on some web sites that there were two trucks in front of the WWII Memorial, also part of the group. USPP has confirmed that there are no trucks present.

-There was also a breach at the barricades at LIME by at least a 100 visitors. USPP is looking to secure the Memorial.

- Lastly, USPP has confirmed that there are an unknown number of protesters at the two Jima Memorial.

At this time there are still no incidents to report...continues to be a quiet day.

The visitation at KWVM and VVM have decreased significantly and are seeing light visitation at this time.

WWII remained empty, with no visitors, for the majority of the day. A small WWII veterans group recently arrived and WWII currently has about 30 visitors.

Bus drop offs and parking have significantly decreased along Henry Bacon Drive.

Flags are now at half mast for Fire Prevention Week

Hi Karen,

Today JoAnn Garcia spoke to a couple of tour groups who were trying to visit the MLK Memorial and on more than one occasion tour group leaders told her that DC Tourism said our sites are still open. I am not sure what DC Tourism organization this is, but if we can the message out to these organizations saying we are closed this might help the situation.

Also, there is a Facebook group called Break the Barrier encouraging people to take back their national parks this week. I am curious to see how this will affect the closures in the park.

At any rate, I just wanted to pass this information on. See you in the morning

Hi Carolyn and Rosanna,

Just a couple of things I wanted to note in case I forget to mention them tomorrow:

I spoke to Joe about most of the closed signs being destroyed by the rain and he said he was working on getting new ones by 10am.

Karen wanted us to deploy more windboard signs. She wants someone to see if there are more of these signs available and then place them appropriately. The ones that are already out there probably have to be replaced as well because of the rain.

Well, that covers it.

Thanks!

Approximately 500 participants removed the bike rack at the WW II and are assembling inside the memorial. I spoke with an organizer in the group who indicated several speeches will commence to include Sarah Palin, Bob Dole, and other dignitaries. The organizer said that their activities should conclude around 1200 hours. He said they may march to the White House following the speeches. (I will notify the JOCC) The organizer said they do not have any planned activities at the other memorials. However, intel reports that small groups inside the bigger group have already talked about moving to the LMC.

Sarah Palin is at the Lincoln Memorial and a large group of protesters has moved from the WWII Memorial to the Lincoln Memorial.

USPP has the situation at WWII and the Lincoln Memorial stabilized but is still working to re-secure Lincoln.

NAMA maintenance staff is working on replacing the barricades that have been removed from Lincoln, Korea and Vietnam...Lincoln is the priority.

Demonstrators are also present at the White House sidewalk.

The monuments and memorials will be re-secured when deemed safe and bike rack can be reclaimed as much of it has been taken to the White House sidewalk. Once again Lincoln will be the priority when replacing bike rack.

USPP has implemented incident command:

Capt. Pope - IC

Capt. Beck - Operations

The one Honor Flight group scheduled for WWII today has arrived.

Reports of visitors parking on Ash Road have been passed on to USPP.

USPP and NAMA rangers continue to monitor the sites for visitor safety and resource protection

17th Street has been re-opened.

USPP has re-secured the Lincoln Memorial and NAMA maintenance crews are in the process of replacing the bike rack.

The Jefferson Memorial is secured.

MLK Memorial is currently being re-secured.

USPP and NAMA rangers are in the process of assessing how much bike rack remains at the WWII Memorial and will re-secure the memorial once the first amendment demonstration is over.

Reports were made that bike rack was thrown into the reflecting pool. This is currently being looked into and reported to NAMA maintenance staff.

Korea and VVM will be re-secured tomorrow once we account for all of the bike rack that was moved during today's events.

Man with rifle arrested at WWII Memorial. There are no further details at this time as this is currently under investigation.

Hi Joe and Jorge,

I am not sure who is on for you tomorrow but here are a few updates:

- There were reports that bike rack was thrown into the Reflecting Pool. No one was able to spot any and confirm this today but will need to be looked into.
- The amount of bike rack that remains in the park will have to be assessed and re-deployed, as much of it was moved during today's events. Maintenance crews have worked to re-secure Lincoln, Jefferson and WWII. KWVM and VVM will most likely have to be secured tomorrow.
- Romell was called in to make more closed signs for the sites. These will need to be distributed to the sites and other areas as needed.

That is all I have for now. If anything else comes up or there are any changes or updates in reference to this email I will be sure to pass them along.

Thanks and let me know if you have any questions.

Hi Joe and Richard,

- 1. The plans is to secure the bike racks at WWII (per Jamie Boyle e-mail) first at 7am. Place appropriate signs at WWII and Korean (First Amendment rights and Park is closed signs along Constitution Avenue).
- 2. Put bike racks back in place at VVM and attach Park is closed due to government shutdown at WEST and EAST end of the wall. He will then take care of the other sites placing the bike racks back in place and make sure the signs are attached using tie wire. He will also make adjustments to the bike racks to make them harder to move from the place where they are placed.
- Lincoln Memorial as of this evening is bike racked at the foot of the second landing of steps near the restroom entrance. No signs are attached and USSP are physically station in front of these bike racks.
- We retrieved 12 bike racks from the White House area on Penn Ave. North side. These bike racks where removed from the Lincoln area and carried by demonstrators to the White House.
- Romell has completed 25 of each of the requested signs today. (1st: Due to the Government shutdown the National Park is closed, 2nd: This site is closed Do not enter). She will return tomorrow and complete the remaining 50 signs per Steve's request. We will then have an equal amount of all three signs, approximately 50 each.
- James Burton will bring materials to replace pins, bolts taken from the legs of the bike racks today. Signs on the Mall where missing at 7th Street (soccer players where playing on panel #25). The close signs will be replaced tomorrow.
- Richard the crew for tomorrow will be James Burton Donnie Harmon and Michael Ransome. Have a great day, Martha

- A crew will re-secure the WWII Memorial tomorrow morning rather than tonight. They will be on site at 0700 hours and can have a USPP presence...they just need to call USPP dispatch and let them know when they are on site.
- Romell will be in tomorrow to make more closed signs.

Bethany Bagent was the ranger who overheard a (b) (6) from Montana discussing a rally similar to yesterday's being planned for tomorrow. The only other things she overheard were a veterans association is involved in this rally for tomorrow and (b) (6) is apparently running for president as he was trying to gather support.

The press conference went very well. It was a well organized group and the event was very low key. It lasted about 30 mins and the focus of all speeches was benefits for veterans and how they are affected by the government shut-down. All demonstrators stayed at the WWII Ceremonial Plaza and did not splinter off and go to other memorials.

Hope this helps.

UC is now operational and park operations remain normal at this time. No incidents to report.

Rangers are now out the sites and the first and only Honor Flight group scheduled for today has arrived.

NAMA maintenance crews are in the process of re-securing the bike rack at the WWII Memorial, KWVM and VVM to follow. They are also replacing signs that were removed from the sites yesterday.

Unified Command Log

10/5/2013 –

Big issue with tour buses parking, dropping off and picking up along Henry Bacon Drive and Independence Avenue. Worked with USPP to sign Henry Bacon, Constitution Avenue and Independence Avenue for No Parking and No Loading/Unloading. USPP is also patrolling Independence Avenue to prevent buses from unloading and loading around MLK and KWVM.

Signs are an issue. Rangers are constantly replacing closed signs that are posted at the sites because they are removed or vandalized.

Biker group threatened to forcefully remove barricades at the WWII Memorial. Originally USPP asked ranger staff to remove barricade at WWII to avoid confrontation but after consultation with NAMA management the barricades will remain. USPP is to monitor situation and talk to the organizer and go from there.

Unified Command is set-up at NCR HQ in the USPP conference room. This is set-up in order to create direct communication between NAMA and USPP.

10/6/2013 –

A lot of pick-up games and sports being reported on WAMO grounds and the Mall despite the park being closed.

Continued visitation by congressmen to the veterans' memorials. Michele Bachmann and Senator King have been a continued presence at the memorials with veterans' groups. Today they demanded entry to the Lincoln Memorial.

Rangers are reporting that a lot of the tour buses and tour groups are being told by DC Tourism organizations that the memorials are still open. I sent an email to Karen about getting the correct message out to these groups.

NAMA is also making larger wind board signs to distribute to the sites.

10/7/2013 –

Monitoring weather – first heavy rain since shut down.

Need to make sure extra signs are available or signs are made of a material that can withstand all weather conditions. All signs need to be replaced because of heavy rain. Perhaps some sort of more permanent sign needs to be explored.

We continue to see visitation by various congressmen who are escorting veterans' groups.

Set-up for immigration rally on the Mall is being monitored by Division of Permits Management and USPP.

More wind board signs are being located and placed throughout the park.

10/8/2013 –

Issue with portable toilets being delivered to the WWII Memorial for Honor Flight groups – this delivery was added to the Honor Flight permit as part of their first amendment demonstration. Maintenance and opening and closing of these toilets are the responsibility of the Honor Flight group.

The immigration rally is being monitored by Division of Permit Management and USPP.

10/9/2013 –

Issues with not having a designated PIO on duty – ensure there is a designated NAMA PIO who is working in coordination with the USPP PIO. There were multiple requests for interviews at the WWII Memorial from various media outlets.

Worked out a PIO contact and passed this information on to the ranger staff in the field.

It may be a good idea to have some sort of communication plan in the event of another shutdown. I think this would be helpful in getting a positive and consistent message out to the media. We cannot always predict what we are going to face but I think this would put us ahead in terms of messaging.

10/11/2013 –

Good idea to have office supplies that will help with creating and hanging signage – duct tape and packing tape were extremely useful and it would be good to have plenty on hand.

Ensure the restrooms and areas where excepted employees are working are stocked with paper towels, toilet paper, hand soap, extra trash bags, etc. Request maintenance staff comes to the areas where excepted employees are working once a day for maintenance and re-stocking.

10/12/2013 –

Request was made for a marked USPP cruiser, or two, to be parked at FDR and MLK or between the two sites. This would give the impression that officers are in the memorials and are a presence. This request was denied but may help in the future.

Noting that rangers leave the sites at 4:30pm when Honor Flights are finished. Once rangers left the sites, USPP would remain and monitor any first amendment demonstrations.

10/13/2013 –

Million Vet Rally taking place at WWI - some participants moved to Lincoln, Korea, Vietnam and the White House. After taking control of the situation it was determined having a USPP detail in place ahead of time for events like this may be beneficial.

As the government shutdown continues the public appears to be more outspoken and trying to pick fights with USPP and rangers.

Sarah Palin was at the WWII Memorial and Lincoln Memorial as part of the Million Vet March.

Bike rack was carried off by demonstrators and carried to the White House and various other locations. NAMA maintenance staff had to take the time to find all of the moved bike rack and put it back at the sites.

There were some reports of resource damage done to a directional sign on the north side of Inlet Bridge at the entrance to FDR. Pictures sent to the Superintendent and Deputies.

Reports of people urinating on the doors of the closed bathrooms. This was reported to maintenance as a safety precaution and as a note for cleaning when the government re-opens.

Romell had to come in and make more signs to be placed at the sites. Signs are constantly being removed by visitors and protesters or destroyed by weather.

More patrols of Independence Avenue were requested because of illegal bus parking.

Visitors were illegally parking on Ash Road and Home Front Drive.

There was no NPS or USPP PIO on duty. Next time stress the importance of having a PIO on duty for the duration of the shutdown.

10/14/2013 –

Bike rack and signs being replaced because a lot of them were removed during yesterdays' events.

More bus parking issues along Independence Avenue.

Montana Honor Flight group visiting WWII Memorial staged a "break in" despite the barricades being wide open. Karen called the Honor Flight coordinator he said this would never happen again.

10/15/2013 –

Discussion about how to handle the bike rack situation – as the shutdown continues the bike rack has been a symbol of breaking barriers rather than informing the public about closures and aiding in enforcing closures.

Decision was made to push out the perimeter for the bike rack and close the park at entrances. The government re-opened before this plan could be put into effect but this may be something to consider in the future.

Grafton,

The Iwo Jima Memorial is administered by the George Washington Memorial Parkway. It is currently closed. In our shutdown legal determination only three parks in the nation were given authority to allow first amendment activities. They are: National Mall and Memorial Parks, President's Park ( The White House and grounds) and Independence National Historical Park in Philadelphia. If you would like to talk with someone more about this you can contact Alex Romero, Superintendent, GW Parkway. He may be reached by email or 703-289-2511. I have talked with him and he is aware you may be contacting him. And...if you have further questions do not hesitate to contact me!

Thanks!

Hub Leaders,

We have been given some relief regarding the government shutdown. The National Park Service and the Superintendent of the Mall will permit Honor Flight Hubs only to visit most of the memorials during the government shutdown.

The procedures are a little different at each of the memorials and I am sure things may change over the next few days.

At the WWII Memorial, the barricades will be in place, but Home Front Drive will be open. The restrooms will not be open, though. We have been given permission to move the barricade at the Pacific Pavilion to let our veterans and guardians enter the memorial. I am told the barricade is heavy and we have been asked not to slide it over the granite, rather we need to have two strong guardians pick it up and move it to the side. After all of our people are inside, the barricade should be put back to keep the general public out. But don't get into a disagreement with the public. If they enter even after you have told them they should not...just let it go. Once you are finished and ready to leave move the barricade again and then replace it when you leave the memorial.

Also, please police the area and remove any trash or litter. Take it with you on the bus and dispose of it later. We do not want to be accused of littering the memorials. The memorial is technically closed so no one will be there to clean up after your group.

The procedure at the Korean Memorial is essentially the same...move the barricades and return them when you are finished. And watch the trash and litter. There may also be barricades on the street. Some hubs have found that we can move them in the same way, and replace them when you leave.

The Vietnam memorial is a bit different. Jeff Miller was in DC yesterday and spoke with the National Park Service directly and suggests having your veterans and guardians go in small groups and quietly view the Wall. The Park personnel can ask you to leave and if you don't go after the third request you could potentially be arrested. Please don't let anyone push it or make a scene. Just politely leave if that happens.

The Lincoln Memorial and it's restrooms will be closed.

I am not sure if we will be able to see Iwo Jima. I have been told the Iwo Jima memorial is barricaded and unavailable.

As part of this new procedure I am sending an e-mail message to the Superintendent of the Mall advising him of date that each hub is coming, at what time and requesting permission for each hub to enter the memorials. He will then approve the visits in a return e-mail. I will forward a copy of his approval message to each of you and I suggest you have it with you just in case you need it. We are being given permission as a First Amendment activity.

As you no doubt know, there has been a tremendous amount of attention given to our veterans and the various politicians that have shown up at the WWII memorial. Some politicians are taking the opportunity to make speeches and distract from our mission. Please do not make political comments to the press if they are present. We do not want to appear to be partisan. It would be best if we discourage the politicians from coming at all.

Please know we are doing everything possible to ensure our Veterans are able to see their long-awaited memorials. If there are any important changes, we will make you aware.

Thanks,

Jim

Casey,

My challenge is I first must survive this shutdown. It is not pain free!

I have enclosed a list of significant permits through this week. Items in bold are first amendment which would still be allowed under our shutdown rules. Other events have been cancelled. Later today we will have a similar list for the next two weeks which includes the Army Ten-Miler and the Marine Corps Marathon. We are working with both of these organizations to help find alternative routes. I should also point out that this list does not include a number of small first amendment permits which we have used to accomodate Honor Flight. I can provide that list also if it is helpful.
