

THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR
WASHINGTON

FEB 09 2016

Mr. Arthur H. Wolf

Non-responsive

Las Vegas, Nevada 89121

Dear Mr. Wolf:

It gives me great pleasure to appoint you to the Tule Springs Fossil Beds National Monument Advisory Council as a resident of Clark County with experience in the field of paleontology. Your appointment is effective the date of this letter for a 3-year term.

The Council will provide the Secretary of the Interior guidance for the management of the Monument, including advisement on the preparation and implementation of a management plan. A copy of the Council's charter is enclosed for your information.

Under applicable ethics laws, your appointment carries with it the status of special Government employee. This means that you are subject to many of the same standards of conduct that apply to Federal employees in general, including the avoidance of conflict of interest. As a special Government employee, you are required to file a confidential financial disclosure form and to complete annual ethics training. Please review the enclosed information regarding special Government employees and return the required forms within 30 days.

Mr. Jonathon Burpee, Superintendent, Tule Springs Fossil Beds National Monument, will be in contact with you regarding Council activities. Mr. Burpee can be reached at (702) 293-8853.

I look forward to the benefit of your counsel on the important activities to be undertaken by the Council.

Sincerely,

Sally Jewell

Enclosures

THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR
WASHINGTON

FEB 09 2016

Mr. Eric G. Scott

Non-responsive

Bloomington, California 92316

Dear Mr. Scott:

It gives me great pleasure to appoint you to the Tule Springs Fossil Beds National Monument Advisory Council (Council) as a resident of San Bernardino County with experience in the field of paleontology. Your appointment is effective the date of this letter for a 3-year term.

The Council will provide the Secretary of the Interior guidance for the management of the Monument, including advisement on the preparation and implementation of a management plan. A copy of the Council's charter is enclosed for your information.

Under applicable ethics laws, your appointment carries with it the status of special Government employee. This means that you are subject to many of the same standards of conduct that apply to Federal employees in general, including the avoidance of conflict of interest. As a special Government employee, you are required to file a confidential financial disclosure form and to complete annual ethics training. Please review the enclosed information regarding special Government employees and return the required forms within 30 days.

Mr. Jonathon Burpee, Superintendent, Tule Springs Fossil Beds National Monument, will be in contact with you regarding Council activities. Mr. Burpee can be reached at (702) 293-8853.

I look forward to the benefit of your counsel on the important activities to be undertaken by the Council.

Sincerely,

Sally Jewell

Enclosures

THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR
WASHINGTON

FEB 04 2010

Ms. Lorraine F. Loomis
P.O. Box 159
Non-responsive
La Conner, Washington 98257

Dear Ms. Loomis:

It is with pleasure that I reappoint you to serve as a member of the Fraser River Panel of the Pacific Salmon Commission. Your appointment is effective the date of this letter and will extend through December 31, 2019.

The Pacific Salmon Commission was established pursuant to the Pacific Salmon Treaty Act of 1985. The Pacific Salmon Treaty established three regional panels: the Northern panel, which is responsible for salmon stocks originating in rivers north of Cape Caution, British Columbia; the Fraser River Panel, which is responsible for the Fraser River Salmon Stock; and the Southern Panel, which is responsible for salmon originating in rivers south of Cape Caution (other than the Fraser River). The Secretary of the Interior has the responsibility of appointing two members and two alternates of the Southern Panel, and one member and one alternate of the Fraser River Panel, which are selected from a list of nominees provided by the 24 treaty tribes affected by the Pacific Salmon Treaty.

Both the United States and Canada are relying on the Pacific Salmon Commission and its panels to guide them in conserving and enhancing the Pacific salmon resource.

Under applicable ethics laws, your appointment carries with it the status of "special Government employee." This means that you are subject to many of the same standards of conduct that apply to Federal employees in general, including the avoidance of conflict of interest. The standards that are specific to special Government employees are shown on the enclosed summary. As a special Government employee, you are required to file a confidential financial disclosure form and complete ethics training on an annual basis. Please review the enclosed information regarding special Government employees and return the required forms within 30 days.

Thank you for your continued service and best of luck in your endeavors. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Mr. David Wooten, Bureau of Indian Affairs, at (202) 513-0355 or by email David.Wooten@bia.gov.

Sincerely,

Sally Jewell

Enclosure

THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR
WASHINGTON

FEB 04 2016

Mr. Ronald G. Charles

Non-responsive

Kingston, Washington 98346

Dear Mr. Charles:

It is with pleasure that I reappoint you to serve as an Alternate member of the Fraser River Panel of the Pacific Salmon Commission. Your appointment is effective the date of this letter and will extend through December 31, 2019.

The Pacific Salmon Commission was established pursuant to the Pacific Salmon Treaty Act of 1985. The Pacific Salmon Treaty established three regional panels: the Northern panel, which is responsible for salmon stocks originating in rivers north of Cape Caution, British Columbia; the Fraser River Panel, which is responsible for the Fraser River Salmon Stock; and the Southern Panel, which is responsible for salmon originating in rivers south of Cape Caution (other than the Fraser River). The Secretary of the Interior has the responsibility of appointing two members and two alternates of the Southern Panel, and one member and one alternate of the Fraser River Panel, which are selected from a list of nominees provided by the 24 treaty tribes affected by the Pacific Salmon Treaty.

Both the United States and Canada are relying on the Pacific Salmon Commission and its panels to guide them in conserving and enhancing the Pacific salmon resource.

Under applicable ethics laws, your appointment carries with it the status of "special Government employee." This means that you are subject to many of the same standards of conduct that apply to Federal employees in general, including the avoidance of conflict of interest. The standards that are specific to special Government employees are shown on the enclosed summary. As a special Government employee, you are required to file a confidential financial disclosure form and complete ethics training on an annual basis. Please review the enclosed information regarding special Government employees and return the required forms within 30 days.

Thank you for your continued service and best of luck in your endeavors. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Mr. David Wooten, Bureau of Indian Affairs, at (202) 513-0355 or by email David.Wooten@bia.gov.

Sincerely,

Sally Jewell

Enclosure

THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR
WASHINGTON

FEB 04 2019

Mr. Joseph C. Peters

Non-responsive

Olympia, Washington 98502

Dear Mr. Peters:

It is with pleasure that I reappoint you to serve as an Alternate member of the Southern Panel of the Pacific Salmon Commission. Your appointment is effective the date of this letter and will extend through December 31, 2019.

The Pacific Salmon Commission was established pursuant to the Pacific Salmon Treaty Act of 1985. The Pacific Salmon Treaty established three regional panels: the Northern panel, which is responsible for salmon stocks originating in rivers north of Cape Caution, British Columbia; the Fraser River Panel, which is responsible for the Fraser River Salmon Stock; and the Southern Panel, which is responsible for salmon originating in rivers south of Cape Caution (other than the Fraser River). The Secretary of the Interior has the responsibility of appointing two members and two alternates of the Southern Panel, and one member and one alternate of the Fraser River Panel, which are selected from a list of nominees provided by the 24 treaty tribes affected by the Pacific Salmon Treaty.

Both the United States and Canada are relying on the Pacific Salmon Commission and its panels to guide them in conserving and enhancing the Pacific salmon resource.

Under applicable ethics laws, your appointment carries with it the status of "special Government employee." This means that you are subject to many of the same standards of conduct that apply to Federal employees in general, including the avoidance of conflict of interest. The standards that are specific to special Government employees are shown on the enclosed summary. As a special Government employee, you are required to file a confidential financial disclosure form and complete ethics training on an annual basis. Please review the enclosed information regarding special Government employees and return the required forms within 30 days.

Thank you for your continued service and best of luck in your endeavors. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Mr. David Wooten, Bureau of Indian Affairs, at (202) 513-0355 or by email David.Wooten@bia.gov.

Sincerely,

Sally Jewell

Enclosure

THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR
WASHINGTON

FEB 14 2019

Mr. Terrance R. Williams
Non-responsive
Tulalip, Washington 98271

Dear Mr. Williams:

It is with pleasure that I reappoint you to serve as a member of the Southern Panel of the Pacific Salmon Commission. Your appointment is effective the date of this letter and will extend through December 31, 2019.

The Pacific Salmon Commission was established pursuant to the Pacific Salmon Treaty Act of 1985. The Pacific Salmon Treaty established three regional panels: the Northern panel, which is responsible for salmon stocks originating in rivers north of Cape Caution, British Columbia; the Fraser River Panel, which is responsible for the Fraser River Salmon Stock; and the Southern Panel, which is responsible for salmon originating in rivers south of Cape Caution (other than the Fraser River). The Secretary of the Interior has the responsibility of appointing two members and two alternates of the Southern Panel, and one member and one alternate of the Fraser River Panel, which are selected from a list of nominees provided by the 24 treaty tribes affected by the Pacific Salmon Treaty.

Both the United States and Canada are relying on the Pacific Salmon Commission and its panels to guide them in conserving and enhancing the Pacific salmon resource.

Under applicable ethics laws, your appointment carries with it the status of "special Government employee." This means that you are subject to many of the same standards of conduct that apply to Federal employees in general, including the avoidance of conflict of interest. The standards that are specific to special Government employees are shown on the enclosed summary. As a special Government employee, you are required to file a confidential financial disclosure form and complete ethics training on an annual basis. Please review the enclosed information regarding special Government employees and return the required forms within 30 days.

Thank you for your continued service and best of luck in your endeavors. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Mr. David Wooten, Bureau of Indian Affairs, at (202) 513-0355 or by email David.Wooten@bia.gov.

Sincerely,

Sally Jewell

Enclosure