Apologies, here are our notes:

- Most of our members don't operate on federal land (unlike other types of mining), so our real concern is Endangered Species Act issues.
- This broken system has a huge negative impact on our industry; almost every business has a story of a project paused or stopped altogether because they have problems with FWS.
- Any information on ESA reform, as well as how the Department plans to deal with some of the Obama era rules like expanding critical habitat, delisting species and listing species.

Regards,
Michele

Michele and Laura,

I hope this email finds both of you well. I will be the Advance Representative to the Secretary for his remarks at the National Stone Sand & Gravel Association Legislative & Policy Forum next Monday. I wanted to connect with you and see when a good time to schedule a walk-through of the event space.

I can do it this afternoon before 2:30 PM or any time Sunday. If neither of those options do not work for you, Monday morning of course would work as well.

I am leaving today on business travel and will be out of the district until Saturday, however, I will be available via email or cell (below) at anytime should you need anything from me or my team.

Thanks in advance and I look forward to working with the two of you.

Best,

WLB
