

Houston FEB Update #1
9/14/17

Houston FEB members:

Please distribute widely:

- Birth certificates:
 - Governor Greg Abbott has approved a request allowing the state to waive fees for mail-in or walk-in birth certificate issuance requests, and local registrars to waive fees for walk-in birth certificate issuance requests, for individuals from hurricane-affected counties.
 - Individuals in the affected counties can request one replacement certified copy of a birth certificate free of charge either by mail or in person at the DSHS main office in Austin. By mail: indicate the county of residence and write “Hurricane Harvey Relief” at the top of the VS 142.3 - Mail Application for a Certified Copy. Include a copy of identification when submitting the form.
 - Local registrars should submit a copy of each application for certified copy that was issued free of charge when invoiced for payment. DSHS will issue a credit on your next invoice. Email questions about remote site payment.

- Rules have been waived to allow mold remediators not licensed in Texas to operate in declared disaster areas, as long as they register with DSHS. The registration is not equivalent to a license, and companies that are not licensed still may not sign a Certificate of Mold Damage Remediation.
- The state has completed 988 medical missions transporting more than 3,200 patients from health care facilities affected by Harvey. Texas Mobile Medical Units have seen 1,252 patients and transferred 131 to health care facilities. Medical shelters for people who need specialized medical care remain open in Houston and San Antonio.
- New Disaster Recovery Center Opens in Webster, TX (Harris County). Anyone affected can visit for help, no matter where you live.
- Harris County: The rain left behind by Hurricane Harvey has created large areas in Harris County where mosquitoes can lay their eggs. To address increasing numbers of mosquitoes and the risk they pose to the recovery effort and public health, the U.S. Air Force Reserve’s 910th Airlift Wing flying modified C-130 cargo planes staged out of Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio will be conducting an aerial spray operation beginning Thursday evening, September 14 and may take more than one day. The plan is to spray approximately 600,000 acres by air, weather permitting. Click here to see map for the proposed spray areas.
- Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) tell us homeowners and renters are getting robocalls telling them their flood premiums are past due. In order to have coverage for Hurricane Harvey, consumers are told they need to submit a payment immediately. Don’t do it. Instead, contact your insurance agent. The agent who handles your homeowners or renters insurance policy could be the same agent who handles your flood insurance policy. If your agent can’t help you, contact your insurance company. If you have a policy with the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP Direct), call 1-800-638-6620 If you suspect fraud, call the FEMA Disaster Fraud Hotline toll free at 1-866-720-5721. Also report it to the FTC. Your reports help the FTC and other law enforcement agencies bring scam artists to justice and put an end to unfair and misleading business practices.

- Are you missing your pets after Harvey? Reunion center now open Several organizations have come together to make it as easy as possible for you to be reunited with your pet. They're calling it the "Pet Reunion Pavilion" – and they're determined to reunite every pet with its family. There are approximately 500 animals at NRG Arena right now – around 400 dogs, and 100 cats. They've been moved from shelter to shelter over the last two weeks, but now it's time for them to come home. Owners are given 30 days to reunite with their dogs and cats. After that, there will be a major adoption event on October 14 for anyone who might want the animals. To find out if your pet is at NRG Arena, click here.

The Pet Reunion Pavilion will be closed during Houston Texans home games, but will be open every other day from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. The Pet Reunion Pavilion is a partnership of Best Friends Animal Society, Harris County Public Health, Austin Pets Alive!, Houston Pets Alive! and Houston PetSet.

- As of Monday, Sept. 11 at 6:00 p.m., the West District and Turkey Creek wastewater treatment plants in west Houston are operating at a very limited capacity. Houston Water also has four portable wastewater treatment tanks at Piping Rock, Rincon Drive, Gentryside Drive, and Briar Patch Drive to directly pump wastewater from the impacted neighborhoods into tanks for transportation to other wastewater treatment plants. Although both wastewater treatment plants are back online, they are still not operating at full capacity. Businesses and residents in the impacted areas should continue to be mindful of activities that generate wastewater to help prevent sanitary sewer backups.

- Three State of Texas/FEMA Disaster Recovery Centers will open Monday, Sept. 11, 2017, in the cities of Katy, Baytown and Houston. It doesn't matter where you live! If you were affected by Hurricane Harvey, you can visit any of the Centers! Disaster recovery centers offer in-person support to individuals and businesses in 39 counties included in the Texas federal disaster declaration for Hurricane Harvey and the subsequent floods.

Recovery specialists from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), the State and other agencies will be at the centers to talk about assistance and to help anyone who needs guidance in filing an application. More FEMA Rumor control:

There are reports that disaster survivors should not remove flood-damaged sheetrock, flooring, carpet, etc. until the house is assessed by FEMA or insurance adjustors. This is FALSE. (September 1)

Cleaning up and making temporary repairs to your storm-damaged property will not disqualify you from federal disaster assistance. Property owners are encouraged to document storm damage to their properties – either with photographs or video – and to then begin cleaning up and making whatever temporary repairs are necessary to make their homes safe and habitable again. Put your health and safety first, take pictures of your damaged home, make repairs to prevent further damage to your property, and keep your receipts to show the inspector.

There are rumors that the fuel shortages in Texas are due to either FEMA blocking sales or fuel being committed elsewhere. This is FALSE. (September 1/Updated September 2/September 4)

Gasoline Stations – Fuel Shortages

It is true that there are sporadic and localized fuel supply disruptions in the southeast and Texas due to the impacts of Hurricane Harvey. Gasoline retailers obtain gasoline supplies based upon the nature of their relationship with their suppliers and can cause shortages at stations when supply is tight. There are three primary fuel supply arrangements: 1) major oil company owned and operated, 2) branded independent retailer who sign a supply contract with a major oil company and 3) an unbranded independent retailer (who purchases gasoline from the open market). With tight supplies due to Hurricane Harvey impacts gas stations that purchase fuel on the open market may not be able to acquire fuel supply since pre-existing supply contracts will be met before gasoline is placed in the open market.

Gasoline prices are also increasing in several regions. <http://fuelinsights.gasbuddy.com/HeatMap>; <http://gasprices.aaa.com>; <http://www.gaspricewatch.com>

Colonial Pipeline Operations

Colonial Pipeline east of Lake Charles, LA is operating intermittently when refinery and terminal product is available to fill the line. The portion of the pipeline between Houston and Hebert remains down and Colonial is estimating returning this portion of the line to service this Monday. The lack of fuel is caused by a combination of factors including: refinery damage, preemptive shutdowns, damage to fuel terminals, and restricted port access for oil delivery in the region.

Strategic Petroleum Reserve

In response, the Department of Energy (DOE) authorized the Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR) to negotiate and execute emergency exchange agreements authorizing 5.3 million barrels of sweet crude oil and up to 300,000 barrels of sour crude oil to be drawn down from SPR's West Hackberry and Bayou Choctaw sites. In addition, DOE and EPA have issued waivers to Colonial which will allow it to accept more product into its pipeline. More information about DOE's response can be found in its Hurricane Harvey Situation Reports. (Updated September 2)

Info from FEMA Region VI (thank you Tony Robinson): If you applied for @FEMA disaster assistance, here's what to expect next. You may receive an application to apply for a low-interest long-term SBA Disaster Loan. Completing the SBA loan application is an important step in finding out what aid may be available for you.

As a homeowner you may borrow up to $200,000 to repair/replace your primary residence, and up to $40,000 to repair/replace personal property	You are not required to accept the loan in order to receive FEMA assistance, but it may enable you to be considered for additional types of assistance.

FEMA Info: Texans affected by the flooding in April will not lose Social Security benefits, pay additional taxes, or give up income-based benefit programs if they accept federal or state disaster aid.

This includes homeowners, renters and businesses in Austin, Colorado, Fayette, Fort Bend, Grimes, Harris, Liberty, Montgomery, Parker, San Jacinto, Waller and Wharton counties who register for disaster assistance.

In most cases, the Social Security Administration does not count federal or state disaster aid as income, according to recovery officials from the state of Texas and FEMA.

A few questions that often come up following a federal disaster declaration are:

FEMA Grants

Question: I'm between 62 and 65 years of age, and have chosen to receive Social Security benefits. If my income is more than a certain amount each year, I must reimburse a portion of my Social Security payment. Will FEMA grants add to my income and require me to repay Social Security?

Answer: No. FEMA grants for housing and other disaster assistance are not counted as income.

Taxes

Question: I'm over 65, but if I earn more than a certain amount, I must pay tax on my Social Security income. Will FEMA grants boost my income and require me to pay tax on my Social Security income?

Answer: No. The IRS does not count FEMA grants for housing and other disaster assistance as income.

Other Assistance

Question: Will receiving a grant cause my income to increase to the point that I am no longer eligible for Medicaid, welfare assistance or food stamps?

Answer: No. Grants for housing and other disaster assistance are not counted as income in determining eligibility for income-tested benefit programs that the U.S. government funds.

Harris County: Take Pictures and Save Your Receipts: Document! Document!
Document!

If you are throwing out carpet, furniture or other items lost to flooding, take pictures of the lost items before they leave your property. Also, save any and all receipts related to the repair and recovery of due to flooding. This extremely valuable when you are seeking reimbursement of any kind from both your insurance company or FEMA.

Harris County & FEMA are asking residents to be aware of potential fraud:

- The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) is raising awareness that Hurricane Harvey disaster survivors, and their friends and family, must be alert for false rumors, scams, identity theft, and fraud. Although many are working hard to help their neighbors in Harris County and the surrounding areas, during chaotic times, some will always try to take advantage of the most vulnerable.
- To dispel some of the false rumors circulating on the internet and social media, FEMA created a dedicated website to address some of the most common themes. Remember, if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is. Visit <https://www.fema.gov/hurricane-harvey-rumor-control> to get the most accurate information from trusted sources.
- FEMA inspectors will be surveying areas in Harris County starting today. Here is how to protect yourself, or someone you care about, from disaster fraud:
 - Federal and state workers do not ask for, or accept, money. FEMA staff will never charge applicants for disaster assistance, home inspections, or help filling out applications. Stay alert for false promises to speed up the insurance, disaster assistance, or building permit process.
 - In person, always ask to see any FEMA employee ID badges. FEMA Disaster Survivor Assistance teams may be in impacted communities providing information and assisting survivors with the registration process or their applicant files.
 - A FEMA shirt or jacket is not proof of identity. All FEMA representatives, including our contracted inspectors, will have a laminated photo ID. All National Flood Insurance Program adjusters will have a NFIP Authorized Adjuster Card with their name and the types of claims they may adjust.
 - If you are unsure or uncomfortable with anyone you encounter claiming to be an emergency management official, do not give out personal information, and contact local law enforcement.
 - If you suspect fraud, contact the FEMA Disaster Fraud Hotline at 866-720-5721 or report it to the Federal Trade Commission at www.ftccomplaintassistant.gov.
 - More information on disaster-related fraud is available at the Texas Attorney General's Office website at texasattorneygeneral.gov/cpd/disaster-scams or call -800-252-8011.

- In Louisiana, disaster-related fraud information is available on the State Attorney General's Office website at <http://www.agjefflandry.com> or contact the National Center for Disaster Fraud's hotline at 1-866-720-5721.

- Two of Houston Water's wastewater treatment plants in west Houston (West District and Turkey Creek) which provide sanitary sewer service to zip codes: 77024, 77041, 77043, 77055, 77077, 77079, 77080, and 77094, remain flooded in up to 8 feet of water as of Monday, Sept. 4, at 7 p.m. Wastewater is water that goes down the drain and into the sanitary sewer system. In homes this includes water from sinks, showers, bathtubs, toilets, washing machines and dishwashers. Houston Water is asking the community in the impacted areas to please help conserve wastewater to avoid sanitary sewer backups.
- A few ways to help conserve wastewater include minimizing laundry use, taking shorter showers, not running the dishwasher, and flushing the toilet a little less. Houston Water crews and partners in the Energy Corridor are working together to try to restore the wastewater treatment plants as quickly as possible. The City of Houston's drinking water remains SAFE; this includes the tap water that comes out of the faucet.

- Emergency Leave Transfer Program is warranted: Agencies with employees adversely affected by Hurricane Harvey are in the best position to determine whether, and how much, donated annual leave is needed by their employees and which of their employees have been adversely affected by the emergency within the meaning of OPM regulations. Agencies are responsible for administering the ELTP for their own affected employees. Therefore, employees who wish to donate annual leave must contact their own agencies, not OPM, to determine if there are any affected employees in their agency and how to donate annual leave to them.

HEALTH INFORMATION

The Houston Health Department urges people impacted by Harvey flooding to take steps to stay safe and healthy. Good hygiene and food safety are of utmost importance:

- Practice good hygiene such as handwashing after any contact with floodwaters. Wash children's hands frequently, especially before meals.
- Do not allow children to play in floodwater areas.
- Do not eat any food that was in contact with floodwaters.

People who experienced flooding but are now able to enter their homes safely can begin cleaning and sanitizing their homes.

- If rain or floodwaters got into your home, take steps to prevent mold growth. First, wash surfaces with soap and warm clean water to remove dirt and debris. Next, sanitize surfaces with household bleach. Clean it with a solution of 1 cup household liquid bleach per 5 gallons of water. Remember:
- Keep children and pets out of the affected area until cleanup has been completed.
- Remove and discard items that cannot be washed and disinfected (such as, mattresses, carpeting, carpet padding, rugs, upholstered furniture, cosmetics, stuffed animals, baby toys, pillows, foam-rubber items, books, wall coverings, and most paper products).
- Remove and discard drywall and insulation that has been contaminated with sewage or flood waters.

- Thoroughly clean all hard surfaces (such as flooring, concrete, molding, wood and metal furniture, countertops, appliances, sinks, and other plumbing fixtures) with hot water and laundry or dish detergent.
- Help the drying process by using fans, air conditioning units, and dehumidifiers.
