Chairs' Reports

Federal Subsistence Board 2010 Annual Report Response

North Slope Council: The Council requested in their annual report that hunting seasons and harvest limits for brown bear be liberalized. Members re-stated their concerns, including, too many brown bear in the region and when can a hunter legally harvest brown bear in defense of life and property, outside of hunting seasons and harvest limits, and not be cited.

Northwest Arctic Council: Council members repeated the concerns for brown bear expressed by the North Slope Council members, above.

Discussion of 2011 Annual Report Topics

North Slope Council: Council members discussed the need for management subunits where communities lie on the boundary of two management units, for example, Point Hope and Units 23 and 26, and Anaktuvuk Pass and Units 24 and 26.

Northwest Arctic Council: No discussion.

State of Alaska House of Representatives member Reggie Jewell, invited testimony: Climate change is not new for many of us; we have observed the changes for a long time. The State of Alaska legislature formed the Northern Waters Taskforce to review governance, infrastructure, resource development, marine transportation and to develop recommendations to help inform and guide the legislature. Upon being questioned, Rep. Jewell explained that the State of Alaska no longer participates in the Coastal Zone Management Program. It was felt by some that there were not people available any longer to manage the program, and so it would hold up the permitting process, and that would end up costing jobs. However, a permitting process still exists, but it is fragmented and exists in various agencies. Organizing a voter initiative is one possibility for restoring the Coastal Zone Management Program.

Pat Pourchot, invited testimony: Mr. Pourchot, on behalf of the Secretary of the Interior, thanked the members of the councils for their service. Secretary Salazar has responded to concerns about the slow process filling council vacancies, mentioned in some council annual reports to the Federal Subsistence Board. This year, vacancies will be announced sooner and filled faster. It's been about two years since the Secretary announced his intention to review of the subsistence program. In response to concerns identified during the review, after discussion with the councils, a call for nominations for two public member seats on the Federal Subsistence Board was opened, and will close at the end of October 2011. The hope is to seat the two new members before the January 2012 Federal Subsistence Board meeting.

Informational Discussion of the Effects of Climate Change on Subsistence

Greg Balogh, Arctic Landscape Conservation Cooperative, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. Climate change observations include reduction in seasonal sea ice and increase in coastal erosion.

Also, North Slope ice cellars are beginning to fail. Barrow average temperatures are expected to rise up to 7 degrees F by 2100. The purpose of the Cooperative is to improve understanding of habitat and populations as they respond to climate driven changes in the ecosystem as a whole, and to do this by funding research and soliciting input from people through technical working groups, Steering Committee representation, and partner groups. The Cooperative will provide information that decision making bodies need to make good decisions. One of the four purposes of the Cooperative is to address the needs of subsistence users in in the Arctic area. The Steering Committee is comprised of representatives of agencies and governments, including tribal governments and boroughs. Information packets were sent to 12 tribes asking for their participation. Mr. Balogh responded to the questions of council members.

North Slope and Northwest Arctic Councils—Motion: Mr. Kramer (NWA) moved to endeavor to have a yearly meeting of all councils statewide. The motion was seconded by Mr. Koonuk (NS). The motion carried unanimously.

There was discussion that a statewide meeting would better promote communication and awareness of climate change to all rural residents.

Trent Sutton, University of Alaska Fairbanks, presented the preliminary results of an inconnu, or sheefish, study in the Kobuk and Selawik river drainages. The project was funded by the Fisheries Resource Monitoring Program, Office of Subsistence Management, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Federal Subsistence Board DRAFT Tribal Consultation Policy

Briefing Paper for Regional Advisory Council 2012 Winter Meetings

Introduction

The Federal Subsistence Board Workgroup for Tribal Consultation has been meeting, listening, consulting, and discussing the development of this policy since June, 2011. The group realizes the significance of this change – that is, the addition of Tribal Consultation - to the Federal Subsistence Management Program. All members of this workgroup have a strong sense of mission, and come to the table with a positive outlook for strengthening federal-tribal relations.

List of Workgroup members:

Della Trumble, Co-Chair, King Cove
Crystal Leonetti, Co-Chair, US Fish & Wildlife Service
John W. Andrew, Organized Village of Kwethluk
Lillian Petershoare, US Forest Service
Rosemary Ahtuanguaruak, Barrow/Nuiqsut
Jean Gamache, National Park Service
Nancy Swanton, National Park Service
Shawna Larson, Native Village of Chickaloon
Richard Peterson, Organized Village of Kasaan
Pete Probasco/Andrea Medeiros, Office of Subsistence Management
Brenda Takeshorse, Bureau of Land Management
George Carlson Yaska, Jr., Huslia/Fairbanks
Bobby Andrew, Native Village of Ekwok
Glenn Chen/Pat Petrivelli, Bureau of Indian Affairs

Steps Taken to Draft this Policy

May 2011 FSB Working Session - Board assigned the task of writing a protocol to the workgroup. Workgroup was assembled with 7 Tribal and 7 Federal members.

June 2011 – Workgroup met in Anchorage for 2 days, drafted an interim protocol to be used for the fall cycle of Regional Advisory Council meetings. A Tribal Co-chair was named.

July 2011 – The Board, at its work session, adopted the two interim protocols – one for Tribes and one for ANCSA Corporations to be used during the fall cycle of Regional Advisory Council meetings for the wildlife proposals.

July 26, 2011 – Separate letters were sent to Tribes and to ANCSA Corporations the Chair of the FSB regarding consultation on the 2012-2014 Wildlife Proposals and on the development of a long-term consultation protocol.

August – October 2011 – 12 consultation teleconferences were held to consult on the 2012-2014 Wildlife Proposals. Although this was a first-time process, we are positive that there will be more attendance in the future and we will be doing more outreach to increase awareness of this type of opportunity. There was a wonderful learning experience for both Tribes & ANCSA Corporations, and for federal staff. What we learned during these teleconferences helped us draft this policy.

September 30, 2011 – A letter was sent to all Tribes inviting them to an in-person consultation in December, with a new draft version of the protocol.

October 20, 2011 – A consultation with ANCSA Corporations and Tribes was held during the Alaska Federation of Natives annual convention here in Anchorage. It was well attended, and we gained more valuable insight at this meeting.

December 1, 2011 – A consultation with Tribes was held during the BIA Tribal Service Providers Conference in Anchorage. It was attended by at least 300 people (my estimate) and we learned substantially more.

December 6-8, 2011 – the workgroup met in Anchorage to consider all verbal and written direction we received from Tribes and ANCSA corporations.

General Concepts of this Draft Policy

1. The policy should be simple, general, and broad. This reflects the DOI policy. Since it does not prescribe a process on how to consult, we changed the name of it from "protocol" to "policy".
2. There is no need to regurgitate the Department-level policies since we need to follow those anyway. What we attempted with this new policy format, is to utilize the DOI and USDA policies as the base, and focus this policy on Federal Subsistence Management and its unique nature.
3. Keeping this policy simple, general, and broad allows the Board (and Tribes) to remain flexible and adapt to what makes sense for meaningful consultation based on the scope and issues being consulted about.
4. The DOI is drafting a "supplemental consultation policy for ANCSA corporations". The workgroup is mirroring this format, knowing that the DOI has had Department-level Solicitors in agreement on this approach.

Themes of this Draft Policy

- Training – For the Board, Staff, and Tribes and ANCSA Corporations
- Adaptability/Living Document – this document can change based on regular reviews and it allows us to adapt to varying situations.
- “How to” is not included here, but intended to be written after a final policy is adopted

Next Steps and Timeline

1) Further Board direction given to workgroup at the January Board meeting, changes are incorporated into the document in the RAC books.

- 2) Regional Advisory Councils will review and discuss the Policy and provide feedback through staff to the Working Group.
- 3) A letter from the Board to Tribes and Corporations will go out mid-February asking for feedback on the new draft policy.
- 4) Workgroup and Interagency Staff Committee to meet in April (via tele- or video conference) to incorporate any changes from RAC discussions or written feedback from Tribes/Corporations
- 5) Meet with Board members, whichever are available, to discuss new draft prior to the May FSB meeting - including in-depth discussion about implementation guidelines
- 6) Adopt policy at May FSB meeting
- 7) Finalize Implementation Guidelines

Questions for Regional Advisory Councils

- Do you feel this policy is going in the right direction? If not, why not?
- Is there anything else that the workgroup needs to consider?
- Do you feel that Tribes concerns from the consultations have been or will be meaningful to the Regional Advisory Council consideration on each topic?

Thank you, Regional Advisory Councils, for your consideration of the Tribal Consultation Policy and any feedback that you might provide.

1 “Tribes and Alaska Native peoples have been this lands’ first conservationists and first multiple
2 use land managers.” - Lillian Petershoare, Workgroup Member, USFS

Tribal Consultation Policy

Draft: 1/19/2012

Preamble

9 The Federal Subsistence Board recognizes that indigenous Tribes of Alaska are spiritually, culturally, and 10 historically connected to the land, the wildlife and the waters. These strong ancestral ties to the land,
11 wildlife and waters are intertwined with indigenous ceremonies such as songs, dances, and potlatches.
12 The customary and traditional way of life has sustained the health, life, safety, and cultures of Alaska
13 Native peoples since time immemorial. To effectively manage the Federal Subsistence Program, the 14 Board will collaborate and partner with Tribes to protect and provide opportunities for continued
15 subsistence uses on public lands.

16 The United States has a unique legal and political relationship with Indian tribal governments, which has 17 been established through and confirmed by the Constitution of the United States, statutes, executive 18 orders, judicial decisions and treaties. In recognition of that special relationship, and pursuant to 19 direction given by the Secretaries of the Interior and Agriculture to implement Executive Order 13175 of 20 November 2000, “Consultation and Coordination with Indian Tribal Governments”, and to meet the 21 requirements of the Presidential Memorandum of November 5, 2009, “Subject: Tribal Consultation”, the 22 Federal Subsistence Board (Board) is developing this Government-to-Government Tribal Consultation
23 Protocol. This Policy affirms the Federal government’s responsibility to engage in regular and 24 meaningful consultation and collaboration with Federally recognized Indian Tribes on matters that may 25 have substantial effects on Alaska Tribes. This Policy also upholds the Congressional mandate to 26 implement the provisions of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA) of 1990, P.L.
27 66-487, which, with its implementing regulations, defines the roles and responsibilities of the 28 Departments of the Interior and Agriculture in administering subsistence management of fish and 29 wildlife on Federal public lands.

30 Government-to-government consultation undertaken through the Board’s process is a direct two-way
31 communication conducted in good faith to secure meaningful participation in the decision-making
32 process to the full extent allowed by law. The Board will take into consideration the Tribes’ concerns
33 brought forth through the consultation process (as defined in this policy) before making its final 34 decision(s).

1 Two Department level consultation policies provide the foundation for this policy. They are the 2 Department of the Interior's Policy on Consultation with Indian Tribes (2011) and the Department of 3 Agriculture's 2010 Action Plan for Consultation and Collaboration. This policy is consistent with the 4 Department-wide consultation policies, and it expands on them to apply consultation to the Federal 5 subsistence management program.

6 The intent of this policy is to describe a framework whereby the Board and Federally recognized Tribes
7 may consult on ANILCA Title VIII, subsistence matters under the Board's authority.

8 Background

9 The Federal Subsistence Program, as established by the Secretaries of the Interior and Agriculture, is a
10 multi-agency program consisting of five agencies: Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Land Management,
11 U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, and U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. These agencies and rural 12 subsistence users maintain the opportunity for a subsistence way of life by rural Alaskans on Federal 13 public lands and waters while managing for healthy populations of fish and wildlife. The Federal 14 Subsistence Regional Advisory Councils have a foundational role in the Federal Subsistence Program. By 15 statute the Board must defer to Federal Subsistence Regional Advisory Council recommendations on 16 regulations unless they are: a) not supported by substantial evidence, b) violate recognized principles of 17 fish and wildlife conservation, or c) would be detrimental to the satisfaction of subsistence needs
18 (ANILCA § 805(c)). The Board distinguishes the deference to Federal Subsistence Regional Advisory 19 Councils from the Tribal government-to-government relationship enjoyed by Federally recognized
20 Tribes, and this Policy will not diminish in any way that relationship and the consultation obligations
21 towards Federally recognized Tribes.

22 The Federal Subsistence Management Program regulations can be found in the Code of Federal 23 Regulations (CFR) at 50 CFR 100 and 36 CFR 242. The regulations have four subparts. Subparts A and B
24 are within the sole purview of the Secretaries of the Department of the Interior and Department of 25 Agriculture. Responsibility and decisions relating to the provisions of Subparts C and D are delegated by 26 the Secretaries to the Federal Subsistence Board. Subpart C contains Board Determinations, including 27 rural and customary and traditional use determinations, while subpart D consists of the regulations for 28 taking fish, wildlife and shellfish.

29 Goals

30 With respect to the Federal Subsistence Management Program:

- 31 1. Create and maintain effective relationships with Federally recognized Tribes.
- 32 2. Establish meaningful and timely opportunities for government-to-government consultation.
- 33 3. Be responsive to requests from Federally recognized Tribes to engage in consultation.
- 34 4. Work with Federally recognized Tribes to improve communication, outreach and education.
- 35 5. Acknowledge, respect and use traditional ecological knowledge.
- 36 6. Recognize the importance of coordination, consultation and follow-up between the Federal 37 Subsistence Board and Tribes.

- 1 7. Integrate tribal input effectively into the decision-making process for subsistence management
2 on public lands and waters while maintaining deference to the Federal Subsistence Regional
3 Advisory Councils.

Consultation

6 1. Communication

7 Information sharing between Tribes and the Board/Federal staff is encouraged to occur early
8 and often. Communication between the Federal agencies and Tribes will occur in a timely
9 manner to maximize opportunities to provide input to the Board’s decisions. For in-season
10 management decisions, formal consultation is not always possible, but 2-way communication
11 will take place prior to implementing those decisions. When issues are brought by Tribes which 12 the Board does not have jurisdiction, the Board and Federal staff will provide Tribes with contact
13 information for the correct state or Federal agency related to the issue, as well as provide the 14 relevant state or Federal agency the Tribe’s contact information. Information sharing will 15 include but is not limited to sharing of traditional knowledge, research and scientific data.

16 2. Roles and Responsibilities

17 Board members are responsible for implementing this policy and ensuring its effectiveness. The 18 Native Liaison in the Office of Subsistence Management is the key contact for the Board’s
19 consultations with Tribes. The Native Liaison will also assist Federal land managers and Tribes
20 with their consultations, as requested or as needed. Federal land managers and staff have a
21 local relationship with Tribes and will maintain effective communications and coordination.

22 3. Topics for consultation are listed under the definition for “Action with Tribal Implications”.
23 They may also include, but are not limited to:

- 24 • For regulations: (e.g., taking of fish, wildlife and shellfish - harvest amounts, methods
25 and means, cultural and educational permits and funerary/mortuary ceremonies;
26 emergency and temporary special actions; customary and traditional use 27 determinations and customary trade)
- 28 • Policies and guidance documents [Note: this is consistent with page 3 “Definitions” of 29 DOI Policy “Departmental Action with Tribal Implication” and cite USDA policy here.]
- 30 • Budget and priority planning development [[Note: this is consistent with page 16 USDA
31 Action Plan for Tribal Consultation and Collaboration \(Nov 2009\) and page 3
32 “Definitions” of DOI policy – “Departmental Action with Tribal Implication” – specifically 33 “operational activity”.](#)]
- 34 • Agreements (e.g. Cooperative Agreement, Memorandum of Understanding, Funding 35 Agreement)

37 4. Timing

1 Timing of consultation will need to be respectful to both the Federal subsistence management
2 cycle and to Tribal timeframes for doing business. Implementing this policy includes providing 3 early notification, methods of notice, availability of Federal analyses, time and place of Federal 4 Subsistence Regional Advisory Council meetings and Board meetings. This is described further in 5 Appendix “A: Federal Subsistence Consultation Implementation Guidelines”. A chart showing
6 the Federal subsistence management cycle is in Appendix “B: Federal Subsistence Management
7 Cycle.”

8 5. Methods

9 No single formula exists for what constitutes appropriate consultation. The planning and 10 implementation of consultation should consider all aspects of the topic under consideration.
11 The Board will be flexible and sensitive to Tribal cultural matters and protocols. Familiarity
12 with and use of Tribes’ constitutions and consultation protocols will help ensure more 13 effective consultation. Consultation may be prompted by a Federally-recognized Tribe or by 14 the Board. Methods for correspondence, meetings, and communication are further
15 described in Appendix “A: Federal Subsistence Consultation Implementation Guidelines.”

17 Accountability and Reporting

18 The Board will monitor consultation effectiveness and report information to the Secretaries, pursuant to 19 the Department of the Interior and Department of Agriculture policies. On an annual basis, the Board 20 shall evaluate whether the policy has been implemented and is effective, including progress towards 21 achieving the seven goals outlined in this policy. The Board will actively seek feedback from Tribes on 22 the effectiveness of consultation, and the evaluation will reflect this feedback. The Board shall modify
23 the consultation process to address needed enhancements, as identified through the annual review. The 24 Board will provide Tribes an oral and written summary through the Board meeting process, of the 25 evaluation and changes, if any. This will assist the Board in meeting its obligations to report annually to 26 the Secretaries of the Department of the Interior and Department of Agriculture.

27

28

29 Training

30 The program will adhere to the Department of the Interior and Department of Agriculture consultation
31 policies for training of Federal staff. The Board recognizes the unique traditional values, culture and 32 knowledge Tribes bring to the process and shall incorporate Tribes into the training for the Board and 33 staff. The Federal Subsistence Board will strive to accompany subsistence users to gain direct experience
34 in traditional Alaska Native hunting and fishing activities. In addition, the program will offer Federal 35 Subsistence Management training to Tribes. A list of possible venues to provide training is included in 36 Appendix “C: Venues for Training.”

5 protection and continuation of subsistence uses of fish and wildlife by rural Alaskans on Federal public lands.

6 ANCSA Corporations – As defined in 43 U.S.C. § 1606, those regional and village corporations formed by
7 Congress through the Act to provide for the settlement of certain land claims of Alaska Natives, approved
8 December 18, 1971, as amended.

9 Consensus Agenda – The Federal Subsistence Board’s consensus agenda is made up of regulatory proposals for 10 which there is agreement among the affected Regional Advisory Councils, a majority of the Interagency Staff
11 Committee members, and the Alaska Department of Fish and Game concerning a proposed regulatory action.
12 Anyone may request that the Board remove a proposal from the consensus agenda and place it on the non-

32 Federally Recognized Tribe – Any Indian or Alaska Native Tribe, band, nation, pueblo, village, or community that 33 the Secretary of the Interior acknowledges to exist as an Indian Tribe pursuant to the Federally Recognized
34 Indian Tribe List Act of 1994, 25 U.S.C. §479a.

35 Interagency Staff Committee – The ISC is made up of senior staff from the National Park Service, U.S. Fish and 36 Wildlife Service, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Land Management, and USDA Forest Service. The ISC 37 members serve as the primary advisors for their agency’s respective Board member.

38 Office of Subsistence Management – The OSM provides support to the Federal Subsistence Board and the 39 Federal Subsistence Regional Advisory Councils. The staff includes fish and wildlife biologists, cultural 40 anthropologists, technical and administrative staff an Alaska Native liaison and liaisons to the Alaska
41 Department of Fish and Game, and the Alaska Boards of Fish and Game.

1 Regional Advisory Councils – Title VIII of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA) provides a
2 foundational role for the ten Regional Advisory Councils in the development of regulations guiding the taking of 3 fish and wildlife on Federal public lands in Alaska. Council members, a majority of whom are rural subsistence
4 users, are appointed by the Secretary. In making its regulatory decisions, the Board must follow the 5 recommendations of the Regional Advisory Councils unless they are not supported by substantial evidence,
6 violate recognized principles of fish and wildlife conservation, or would be detrimental to the satisfaction of 7 subsistence needs (805(c) of ANILCA). Deference to the Councils ensures that rural residents have a meaningful
8 role in the management of fish and wildlife and subsistence uses, as envisioned by Congress.

9 Special Action – An out-of-cycle change in the seasons, harvest limits or methods and means of harvest. The two 10 types include: 1) emergency, which are effective for up to 60 days, and 2) temporary, which are effective for the 11 remainder of the regulatory cycle.

Supplement of the Federal Subsistence Board Tribal Consultation Policy

Note to reviewer: This supplemental policy for consultation with ANCSA corporations is adapted from the DOI DRAFT Policy on Consultation with Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (ANCSA) Corporations. Where ANILCA or FSMP provisions required extra explanation for this policy, it was added and is indicated as additions in italics.*

I. Preamble

In compliance with Congressional direction, this Policy creates a framework for consulting with ANCSA Corporations. Pursuant to the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act (ANCSA) of 1971, ANCSA Corporations were established to provide for the economic and social needs, including the health, education and welfare of their Native shareholders. Congress also required that “[t]he Director of the Office of Management and Budget [and all Federal agencies] shall hereafter consult with Alaska Native Corporations on the same basis as Indian Tribes under Executive Order Number 13175.” Pub. L. No. 108-199 as amended by Pub. L. No. 108-447.

The Federal Subsistence Board (Board) distinguishes the federal relationship to ANCSA Corporations from the Tribal government-to-government relationship enjoyed by any federally recognized Indian Tribe, and this Policy will not diminish in any way that relationship and the consultation obligations towards federally recognized Indian Tribes. Recognizing the distinction, the Board is committed to fulfilling its ANCSA Corporation consultation obligations by adhering to the framework described in this Policy.

DRAFT FOR EDITING

The Department of Interior is in the development stages of the Department-wide Policy on Consultation with ANCSA Corporations [this is slated to be finished in spring or summer 2012 – finalize this sentence at that time] and the U.S. Department of Agriculture has a policy in place for Consultation with Tribes and ANCSA Corporations. The Board will follow the Department-level policies; and for the purpose of Federal Subsistence Management, this policy further clarifies the Federal Subsistence Board’s responsibilities for consultation with ANCSA Corporations.

II. Guiding Principles

The Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA) is a law that has a foundation built on conservation. ANILCA Section 802(3) provides direction for interactions with Alaska Native corporations: “except as otherwise provided by this Act or other Federal laws, Federal land managing agencies, in managing subsistence activities on the public lands and in protecting the continued viability of all wild renewable resources in Alaska, shall cooperate with adjacent landowners and land managers, including Native Corporations, appropriate State and Federal agencies and other nations.”

IV. Policy

The Board will consult with ANCSA Corporations that own land within or adjacent to boundaries of federal conservation units in which that land or its resources may be affected by regulations enacted by the Board.

ANCSA Corporations may also initiate consultation with the Board by contacting the Office of Subsistence Management Native Liaison.

Consultation Implementation Guidelines

Guidelines for implementing the Board's policies for consultation with Tribes would provide details about how the policy would be carried out. It might best be developed by a work group comprised of a balanced number of Tribal leaders and Federal staff, similar to the approach taken in developing the consultation policy. It could be comprised of members different from or in addition to those who served on the consultation policy work group. For example, Federal staff on the work group might include representation from the Office of Subsistence Management, Interagency Staff Committee, agency Native Liaisons, local land managers and/or law enforcement. Tribal members of the consultation policy work group mentioned repeatedly that, currently, most consultation occurs with local land managers and local biologists, cultural resource professionals and/or subsistence specialists; thus, a voice from the field would be beneficial in drafting the guidelines. The work group would reflect the broad interests, knowledge and experiences of subsistence users and Federal land managers.

Ideas and suggestions raised during the development of the Tribal consultation policy, as well as experience and information gained through Tribal consultations and Federal staff input should be considered in drafting the implementation guidelines.

The format for the implementation guidelines could follow the format used for the consultation policy. Major headings would mirror those used for the policy:

IN REPLY REFER TO:

JAN 25 2012

Dear Interested Citizen, Agency, Tribe, or Organization:

Enclosed for your review is an executive summary briefing of an environmental assessment (EA) in which the National Park Service (NPS) is considering promulgating new regulations to allow subsistence collections and uses of shed or discarded animals parts and plants to make handicrafts for personal or family uses, for barter, or to sell. Collection activities would only be allowed in NPS areas where subsistence is authorized in accordance with Titles II and VIII of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA) of 1980. The EA evaluates the effects of alternatives for managing the collections of plants and inedible animal parts from naturally shed (including natural mortality) or discarded (from hunters) for subsistence uses by qualified local rural residents. The NPS goal is to authorize these uses in a manner to prevent or minimize adverse impacts to other park resources, values, and uses.

The NPS is considering this action because Alaska rural residents asked the NPS to consider allowing these collection activities in ANILCA units with subsistence provisions because NPS national regulations at 36 CFR 2.1 presently prohibit the "Possessing, destroying, injuring, defacing, removing, digging, or disturbing from its natural state any living or dead wildlife or fish, or parts or products thereof, such as antlers or nests."

The EA was completed in accordance with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 and the regulations of the Council on Environmental Quality (40 CFR 1508.9).

The comment period for the EA will extend 60 days, beginning February 7, 2012, and ending April 7, 2012. Please send written comments to:

Overview Statement

Bureau:	National Park Service (NPS)
Unit:	Alaska Region
Date:	January 2012
Title:	Subsistence Collections of Shed or Discarded Animal Parts & Plants

Issue: Federally qualified subsistence users have requested the NPS to authorize subsistence collections and uses of shed or discarded animal parts and plants in NPS Alaska Region units for personal and family uses and to make and sell handicrafts. The NPS has a regulation at 36 Code Federal Regulations 2.1 that prohibits the “Possessing, destroying, injuring, defacing, removing, digging, or disturbing from its natural state: Living or dead wildlife and fish, or their parts or products thereof, such as antlers or nests.” The Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act Title VIII authorizes subsistence uses “for making and selling handicraft articles out of nonedible byproducts of wildlife resources taken . . .” The NPS has drafted an environmental assessment (EA) to analyze the impacts of alternatives that would allow subsistence collections and uses of shed or discarded animal parts and plants to make into handicrafts and use for personal or family purposes or to sell. A regulation may be proposed following the public review of the EA and NPS’s decision on how to proceed on the requested action.

Background:

- Two NPS units have regulations allowing subsistence users in Kobuk Valley National Park and Gates of the Arctic National Preserve (Western or Kobuk River Unit) to collect plant materials to make them into handicrafts and sell.
- The NPS Subsistence Management Team has briefed Subsistence Resource Commissions (SRC) repeatedly on progress on the project, and the SRC Chairs were briefed on 10/18/2011.
- Conservation groups were briefed on the potential environmental assessment and regulation in 2010.
- Contact with the State of Alaska has occurred with Jennifer Yuhus (ADFG) and Saunders McNeil (Alaska Department of Commerce, Community, and Economic Development)

Current Status:

- An EA is out for a 60-day public review from February 7 to April 7, 2012.
- The NPS Regional Director identified Alternative D as the Preferred Alternative.
- Draft regulations have been prepared as an appendix to the EA to provide the reviewer with examples of how the regulations might be expressed for each action alternative.

Key Stakeholders Positions of Interested Parties:

- Subsistence groups prefer the least restrictions on collections that could limit materials to make and sell handicrafts.
- Conservation groups are concerned about liberal collections for subsistence uses within NPS areas in Alaska.
- The State of Alaska recognizes that subsistence collections of materials to make and sell handicrafts is a large industry of over $100 million dollars per year; however, the State has expressed caution over the use of some materials, such as bear claws.

Action Needed:

- Do you need a full copy of the EA for comment and review?
- Which alternative(s) are best for your areas and why?
- How important would it be for your communities to be able to collect nonedible shed or discarded animal parts and plants from NPS areas to make and sell handicrafts?

Subject: Gathering of Shed Antlers on National Park Service Lands

Dear Regional Director Blaszak:

The Eastern Interior Alaska Subsistence Regional Advisory Council (Council) requests the prohibition of collecting antlers or horns, naturally shed or discarded by hunters, on National Park Service (NPS) lands be removed (36 CFR 2.1 (a) (1) (i)). We believe the NPS should allow this collection by Federally qualified subsistence users, as there is a long history of utilizing antlers and horns to make handicrafts, and other items, as an important part of the subsistence way of life in Alaska. We also believe that allowing this collection to occur would not result in any conservation concern (i.e. overharvest), because the making of handicrafts is labor intensive, time consuming and, thus, inherently limits the amount of resource that is sought and utilized at any given time.

Our Council became aware of this prohibition on NPS lands when we were developing our recommendation on Federal subsistence wildlife proposal, WP07-04, a combination of two proposals submitted by our Council and the Upper Tanana/40-Mile Fish and Game Advisory Committee. The proposal requested the Federal Subsistence Board to allow the sale of horns and antlers from goat, sheep, deer, elk, caribou, muskox, and moose that have been naturally shed or removed from the skull of an animal harvested on Federal public lands by Federally qualified subsistence users. It was noted in our Council meeting materials, as well as during the Federal Subsistence Board's deliberation, that shed antlers are not regulated under the Federal Subsistence Management Program. This factored into the Board's decision to adopt the proposal with the modification to address only animals "legally harvested", with clarifying language regarding removal of horns or antlers from the skull.

Thank you for your consideration of our request. The Council looks forward to your response outlining the steps that the National Park Service will be taking to correct this oversight of a traditional subsistence activity on its lands. For your information, our next public meeting is scheduled for October 16-17, 2007 in Fort Yukon. If you have questions, please contact me directly (1-907-883-2833) or our Regional Coordinator, Vince Mathews. His contact information can be found in our letterhead.

Dear Ms. Entsminger:

The National Park Service (NPS) has received your letter of May 14, 2007, and as you know, a local NPS representative spoke to you in August to ensure we clearly understood your request. Based upon your letter and subsequent clarifications, we understand the following allowances are being sought:

- 1) That subsistence users be allowed to collect shed or discarded horns and antlers from NPS lands and that they could then be used for family or personal use.
- 2) That after such horns and antlers are collected, they could be made into handicrafts and sold, and
- 3) That horns and antlers could be sold in a raw state under the auspices of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA) definition of customary trade.

To evaluate your request, I convened a work group comprised of staff representing each park area in Alaska as well as members from our law enforcement and subsistence teams. This group met several times and then presented the issue to all of the park superintendents in the state. After carefully reviewing your request, we have developed a strategy to work with you on the first two issues mentioned above.

The NPS staff will first work with each park Subsistence Resource Commission to determine their individual interest and needs with these issues. Depending on the outcome of these discussions, the NPS will then develop options that meet agency and commission needs. These options will then be appropriately evaluated through the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) process. Depending on the outcome of this evaluation, regulations may then be developed under a formal rule making process. Since these steps may involve groups from around the state, the NEPA and the rule making process could take 18-24 months each. Please understand that there are no guarantees as to the outcome of the process, as the process will drive the decisions to be made.

As far as item number three above, unfortunately we cannot allow the selling of horns and antlers that have not been made into handicrafts, under customary trade provisions.

NPS staff knowledgeable about this request will attend your next meeting in Ft. Yukon in order to explain this strategy and process in detail.

I look forward to working with you, the Regional Advisory Council, as well as the Subsistence Resource Commissions on this request.

Sincerely,

Hunting Program Recommendation 99-01 (#20): Customary Trade

The National Park Service should revise customary trade regulations for Gates of the Arctic National Park and Preserve to better reflect traditional practices of local residents. The Commission recommended regulatory revisions to accommodate the following local customary practices:

- 1) Gathering plant materials for making and selling of handicrafts. These wild renewable materials include, but are not limited to roots, tree bark, wood and lichens. Uses include, but are not limited to making of snowshoes, dogsleds, baskets and various arts and crafts, etc. The materials are harvested in very limited amounts and the practice is not detrimental to park resources.
- 2) Another practice overlooked in National Park Service regulations is the small scale manufacture of handicraft articles from horn, antler and bone which are shed or are from animals that have died naturally or such parts discarded or by other subsistence users. The large-scale sale of these resources should not be allowed. The making of handicrafts is labor intensive, time consuming and inherently limits the amount of resource that is sought and utilized.

Dear Mr. Simon:

I am responding to your letter regarding Gates of the Arctic National Park Subsistence Resource Commission (SRC) Hunting Plan Recommendation 99-01 (#20) - Customary Trade on behalf of the Secretary of Interior. Your letter requests the National Park Service develop subsistence regulations to allow limited gathering of plant, horn, antler and bone materials for making and selling handicrafts articles. These recommendations appear consistent with provisions of the Alaska National Interest Lands Conservation Act (ANILCA), including Section 803 which provides for the making and selling of handicraft articles made from these types of materials. Gathering of plant material for handicrafts is already allowed in the Gates of the Arctic National Preserve. Gathering of plant, horn, antler, and bone materials in the park, and the addition of these to the current allowance of plant material in the preserve, will require new regulations.

Your recommendations will be appropriately evaluated through the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) process. Depending on the outcome of this evaluation, regulations may then be developed under a formal rule making process. Since these steps may involve input from around the state, the NEPA and the rule making process could take 18-24 months each. Please understand that there are no guarantees as to the outcome of the process, as the process will drive the decisions to be made.

We appreciate your interest in this important subsistence management issue. Thank you for your continued commitment of service to the SRC program. Your questions and comments are welcome and should be directed to the park superintendent at (907) 457-5752.

Gates of the Arctic Subsistence Resource Commission
Hunting Plan Recommendation 11-01

A recommendation that requests an increase in the per diem rate for State of Alaska Subsistence Resource Commissions and Federal Regional Advisory Councils.

The Gates of the Arctic Subsistence Resource Commission (SRC) proposes Hunting Plan Recommendation 11-01, which states that there should be an increase in the per diem rate for all Subsistence Resource Commissions, as well as Federal Regional Advisory Councils. ANILCA Title VIII sec. 808 mandates the establishment of an SRC for each of the national parks where subsistence uses are allowed. The formal involvement of SRCs includes sharing information about traditional subsistence activities and the resources found on federal lands, specifically National Park Service lands. It is integral to the SRC and the management of parklands that well-qualified people serve on the commission, people with a strong knowledge base of the subsistence way of life and the fish and wildlife populations upon which they rely. In order to maintain and fulfill the mandate set forth by ANILCA, it is important to attract and/or retain suitable people who are interested in serving as commission members.

It should also be considered that the cost of living in Alaska is substantially higher than the lower 48. The Gates of the Arctic SRC would like the amount of the Alaska per diem to be set at a rate that reflects the exorbitant costs residents experience in order to live in Alaska. The SRC is requesting at this time an increase in per diem rates so that they reflect the actual costs of living in both urban and rural Alaskan communities.

Recommendation 11-01 would reinforce the commitment the Federal government has taken in upholding the ANILCA mandate related to the formation of Subsistence Resource Commissions and Regional Advisory Councils.

Sincerely,

Secretary Appoints Two Public Members to the Federal Subsistence Board

Secretary of the Interior Ken Salazar today announced the appointment of two public members to the Federal Subsistence Board (FSB). Secretary of Agriculture Tom Vilsack concurred in the appointments of Anthony Christianson of Hydaburg and Charles Brower of Barrow. Following a review of the federal subsistence program in 2010 the Secretaries had recommended that the FSB be expanded to include additional public members representing rural subsistence users. The Board currently consists of a public Chair and five directors of Alaska federal agencies.

Mr. Christianson and Mr. Brower are life-long Alaskans with deep personal knowledge and experience with subsistence. In the review Secretary Salazar asked the Board and the Department to take a number of actions, including the appointment of two additional public Board members, “to provide a more responsive, more effective subsistence program.” The Secretary believes that these appointments will go far in bringing increased knowledge of subsistence users and uses to the decision-making process of the Board.

Secretary Vilsack strongly supports the selection of Mr. Christianson and Mr. Brower for service on the Federal Subsistence Board. “Their records of leadership and experience will bring important insight to the work of the Board and represents a new chapter in the working relationship between the federal government and the people of rural Alaska.”

Mr. Anthony Christianson is a life-long resident of Southeast Alaska and currently serves as Natural Resource Director for the Hydaburg Cooperative Association, a federally recognized tribal entity. He also serves as Mayor of the City of Hydaburg. Mr. Christianson has participated in a number of programs and studies related to fish and wildlife in Southeast Alaska.

Mr. Charles Brower is a life-long resident of Barrow, Alaska, and currently serves as Special Assistant to the Vice President of the Ukpeavik Inupiat Corporation, the Barrow village corporation. Former positions include Wildlife Department Director for the Native Village of Barrow and Wildlife Department Director for the North Slope Borough. Mr. Brower has served on a number of wildlife commissions including the Alaska Migratory Bird Co-Management Council, the Alaska Nanuuq (polar bear) Commission, and the Eskimo Walrus Commission.
