From this, or generally? I'm not planning to look at any incoming material, unless its from a public official, until after the 24th, and then only to determine if it is a review comment or not.

Thanks. As you know, the comment period on the monument review is closed. I will note these with the many other comments that have come in subsequent to July 10. In case there is material here that might relate to implementation of the Secretary's recommendations, I will access the cover letter after the recommendations are transmitted.
