Member of Congress

Subject: Trump and Zinke are coming for our parks, public lands and monuments!

Dear Member of Congress,

I am appalled that our treasured National monuments are up for review at all.

Every single one of our parks, monuments and cultural or historic sites is worthwhile and belongs as a part of the American story. I am adamantly opposed to any effort to eliminate or diminish protections for national monuments and I urge you to support our public lands and waters and recommend that our current national monuments remain protected.

The short review you are undertaking makes a mockery of the decades of work that local communities have invested to protect these places for future generations, especially Bears Ears National monument, which is the first on the list for this review. Five Tribal nations, Hopi, Navajo, Uintah and Ouray Ute Indian Tribe, Ute Mountain Ute and Zuni tribes came together, for the first time ever, to protect their shared sacred land by advocating for Bears Ears to be made a national monument. Now the Bears Ears Inter-Tribal Coalition is working to protect the national monument, and maintain its integrity.

Hear me, and the overwhelming number of people who agree with me: PUBLIC LANDS BELONG IN PUBLIC HANDS. It is your job as the Secretary of the Dept. of Interior to protect and safeguard our national treasures. Please make sure you side with the people who support national parks, monuments, historical and cultural sites.

Sincerely,
Bailey Usdin

Comment:	See attached file(s) Dear Interior Secretary Ryan Zinke, Bears Ears National Monument is a national treasure that belongs to all Americans and honors the five Native American tribes who fought for its creation. We stand with sovereign tribal nations in asking you to leave the Bears Ears National Monument boundary alone. Please work with us to protect this land for future generations of all people. Bears Ears National Monument is a treasure that belongs to all Americans and honors Native American tribes. The beautiful mesas, cliffs and canyons contain over 100,000 tribal archaeological and cultural sites across the 2,000 square mile area. This richness of environmental resources and Native American history is what led five tribes to lead efforts to protect their ancestral land. The Hopi Tribe, Navajo Nation, Ute Mountain Ute Tribe, Pueblo of Zuni and the Ute Indian Tribe have come together for the co-creation and management of this amazing area. Since President Obama listened to these tribes and other Bears Ears supporters and used the Antiquities Act to create the Bears Ears National Monument, the oil and gas industry and their backers in the Republican party have opposed the monument, filing a lawsuit to stop it, and urging President Trump to remove protection for the area. It would be unprecedented for any president to remove protection from national treasures set aside through a previous administration. This petition aims to urge Interior Secretary Ryan Zinke to defend Bears Ears National Monument and defend the important cultural artifacts at risk. Over 92,000 individuals can't be wrong! P.S. There were so many signatures that I had to split the PDF file into two separate files for uploading. I can provide the original, complete file upon request. First Name: <input type="text" value="Peter"/> Middle Name: <input type="text"/> Last Name: <input type="text" value="Scott"/> ZIP/Postal Code: <input type="text" value="84106"/> Email Address: <input type="text" value="(b) (6)"/> Organization Name: <input type="text"/> Submitter's Representative: <input type="text"/> Government Agency Type: <input type="text"/> Government Agency: <input type="text"/> Category: <input type="text"/> Cover Page: <input type="text" value="HTML"/>

Comment:	Please accept these public comments from 82,323 online members and activists on behalf of the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC) regarding DOI-2017-0002-0001 in defense of Bears Ears National Monument. National parks and public lands and waters help define who we are as a nation. Attempts to dismantle national monuments are an attack on our nation's historical, cultural and natural heritage. We urge you to defend national monument protections for Bears Ears and all of our threatened national monuments.

Comment:	Dear Interior Secretary Zinke, The attached spreadsheet contains 5,428 petitions from 2016, asking President Obama to designate the Bears Ears area as a National Monument. We believe this information should be considered in your review of the National Monument. On behalf of the communities with whom we work and the thousands of people who have written to us in support of the Bears Ears National Monument, we ask that you leave the current national monument boundaries intact. Sincerely, Utah Din Bikyah *
