Hi Randy,

What do we do with the comments that are treated as a single comment, but are actually uploads of 10 to 20 other comments? I'm assuming with just the number I have seen so far this will add up to hundreds of comments if not more. Some are uncodable, because the comments are not visible at all, some are part gibberish, but can still be seen as supporting or not supporting the review. If we just put them as uncodable, will those get reviewed and be able to be counted later. Otherwise those hundreds of comments will only be counted as a few.

Thanks,
Pete

Congratulations to Katherine Harrigan, who has reviewed and coded 1,001 comments.

Overall, we have disposed of about 40% of the remaining comments. If those who have not yet worked on these, or have done only a handful, will spend time at it in the next few days we should be able to finish by Wednesday if not sooner.
