Subject: Tomorrow's Monument Review meeting
Date: Tuesday, June 13, 2017 2:12:20 PM

We have what I believe is a minor complication for the meeting. The Go-to-Meeting application that we plan to use, to display the DiscoverText system as we talk about coding options, can only handle 25 people at once, and we have 30 acceptances for the meeting.

However, I know some of you are planning to come in person to room MIB 6122, which was noted in my email invitation but not in the calendar invite.

I would also note that the discussion with the NOAA review team on the marine monuments will be in-person only, as the call-in line I normally use is tied up with a conflicting meeting tomorrow.

If you are coming in person to 6122, would you please send me an email noting that. If you are not planning to come in person, you do not need to respond.

Thank you.
